

WE NOMINATE

Thirteen unsung Princetonians, four women and nine men, who over the course of the past two decades have literally given of themselves so that others might benefit from one of medicine's most spectacular achievements — the discovery that blood from one human being can be used to save the life of another. The "Princeton 13," drawn from a variety of fields ranging from science and law to agriculture and educational administration, constitute the community's most exclusive service organization, "The Four-Gallon Club," whose members have donated a minimum of 32 pints to the Princeton Blood Donor Service.

Brought into being in 1919 and sponsored jointly by the Hospital and the Princeton Chapter, American Red Cross, this pioneering program, ranking among the most successful undertakings of its kind in the nation, provides free blood for any patient in Princeton Hospital. As the horizons of medical knowledge have steadily broadened, and as the Princeton Area has been whirled into the vortex of dizzying growth, the demands upon this service have mushroomed. In its initial month of operation (December, 1919) 35 blood donations were called for; this past January (1970) the corresponding total mushroomed to 280, an 800 per cent increase.

No one of these donors dramatizes his, or her, contributions and all insist: We "have done little to write about." One, the first to reach the 3-gallon mark, made his initial donation 20 years ago this Saturday (April 11). He has now given 31 pints and recalls the desperate, far-and-wide search years ago (before the Blood Service was launched) for a donor with the same blood type as his terribly ill son. From the beginning this Princetonian, acutely aware of crucial blood needs, "has never refused to give, because I know I am only called when I am needed. I also realize how vital the Blood Donor Service is."

With Princeton Borough and Township currently observing an officially proclaimed "Blood Donor Week," and with Princeton High School volunteers effectively using the Service's slogan, "Share the Joy of Living — Give Blood," in carrying forward a door-to-door drive for donors, two of the "1-Galloners" have made giving a family affair. Both Mrs. Alan Tredennick, chairman of Princeton Blood Services since 1956, and her husband, vice-president of The Helme Company, Jamesburg, are on the roster and in the years ahead may well be joined by two of the donors they have recruited, their son and daughter-in-law.

The senior donor, from the point of view of longevity of service and number of gifts (38 pints), is Miss Frances Swineford of Educational Testing Service. Both RCA and Princeton University are represented by three veteran staff members. RCA's contingent includes Drs. Harold B. Law and Dwight O. North, of RCA laboratories, and George M. K. Baker, of the Astro-Electronics Division, while the University's standard-bearers are Controller Wilbur M. Young, Librarian Helen Fairbanks and Mrs. Carl Kavanaugh, Administrative Aide. The roster of distinction is rounded out by attorney Hugh D. Wise, Chester Steen, vice-president of Walker Gordon Laboratories, George Otis, of the Marketing Communications Research Center, and Richard H. Williams, of the Response Analysis Corporation.

For placing the needs of others far above any personal considerations; for demonstrating that leadership by example is an essential ingredient in any community-wide venture; for helping sustain a program which must grow from strength to even greater strength; they are our nominees as

This Is Princeton

PROFESSOR KELLEY . . .
And a new Princeton University. What happens across Nassau Street behind the iron fence that shields Nassau Hall inevitably affects the town, no matter how remote the happening may seem.

This Monday, Princeton University released the Kelley Report, result of two years of work by the student-faculty committee on the Structure of the University.

The report unlocks and opens doors, knocks down walls, lets fresh breezes blow and, most important of all, allows more people to walk through the structure and contribute to its building processes.

"More people will participate in decisions on a wider range of issues," the report states. "It will be easier to raise issues, to get a bearing, to win the support of others and to gain access to those formally responsible for making decisions."

"We don't expect immediate action," observed the committee's chairman, Stanley Kelley Jr., at a Monday press conference, "although we hope for action on some proposals this spring. But the chances for action are reasonably good; we don't expect the report to gather dust."

Professor Kelley listed several recommendations the committee regards as most important:

- Students would have the power to influence curriculum through representation on the faculty's Course of Study Committee and would have the power, under certain conditions, to exercise a qualified veto of faculty actions. ("Students should participate in course decisions by right," Dr. Kelley states.)

- Trustee and faculty meetings would be open, at least in part, to the campus press and to observers.

- Sponsored research, the University's membership in outside organizations and the leasing of campus property (like the present leasing of land to the Institute for Defense Analyses) would all be submitted for consideration to the new Council of the University Community. This new group, with a 40% student membership, was one of the first Kelley Report recommendations to be adopted.

- Rules that apply only to one group would either be abolished or modified. Examples at present, the use of firearms or fireworks on campus is illegal — but only for students. "We should ask ourselves 'How would I feel if that rule were applied only to me?'" Dr. Kelley suggested.

- All full-time faculty, including lecturers and instructors, would have the vote at faculty meetings. Dr. Kelley told the press conference this recommendation may be acted on as early as next week.

- Conflict-of-interest procedures should be set up so that people in the University community would be disqualified from participating in any University decision that would be advantageous to them.

The report has wide distribution: to all students, to faculty, trustees, Undergraduate Assembly and University Council.

To read these bodies into quick action, perhaps this spring, the report carries detailed, specific recommendations for changing various constitutions, by-laws and rules of the various University bodies.

"Without specific proposals," Dr. Kelley says dryly, "there is less chance for action."

So far, no recommendation has been turned down and there have been accepted: authority over student rules of conduct has been delegated to students; procedures have been set for electing students and faculty before selecting new trustees, and for making sure the trustees have young alumni among their membership. And the Council of the University Community has been formed.

The report is unanimous, except in one area. The committee recommends an ombudsman who would hear complaints, but only a majority voted "Yes."

An ombudsman might come between deans and the rest of the University community, some committee members feel. Besides, hiring a good one would cost a lot of money. The attitude is "wait and see."

Conflict Seen, Dr. Kelley admitted that the hardest recommendations to put through would be those calling for open meetings of trustees and faculty, and the recommendation that students have a qualified veto on curriculum.

"There's a good deal of reluctance on the part of trustees to generally open meetings," said Princeton's president, Dr. Robert F. Goheen. Parts of trustees meetings might be open, he suggested. He added that he opposes open meetings of trustees because, he said, real decisions are made in conferences anyway, and open meetings would tend to become "pro forma" only.

Dr. Goheen also said he didn't see any merit in normally open faculty meetings although, as a member of the Kelley committee, he didn't vote against the measure.

"Formation of the Council of the University Community was the single most important recommendation of the committee," he stated.

Change! Dr. Kelley, in an overview of the report, says it will mean a University "substantially changed" and "substantially different from other universities."

Greater accountability, more issues publicly discussed, more reasons given publicly all add up to one thing, he says. "Better decisions grow from public accountability."

Two groups will probably give the report its warmest welcome: students and junior faculty.

At the press conference, W. Joseph Dehner Jr., Princeton senior who has been a member of the Kelley Committee, said he found University administration "cautious" about change.

"But the students have felt left out, and we had a little more fervor for change."

Students themselves brought many suggestions to the committee, including the one for setting up a council on the future of the University.

Junior faculty, without tenure, have frequently felt left out.

Blood, which the heart pumps rapidly around the body through miles of blood vessels, does many things to keep us alive and healthy. It carries the necessities of life — oxygen, water and food — to all the cells of the body. In addition, our donations of this remarkable fluid may help save the lives of others. Until recent times, the sight of blood or the loss of blood had been associated with tragedy and death. Now, in the light of modern knowledge, this attitude has disappeared, and this remarkable fluid is considered an instrument for saving life. The Princeton Blood Donor Service, sponsored jointly by the Princeton Chapter of Red Cross and the Princeton Hospital, depends entirely on voluntary donors who give their blood as a protection to their families and to others who cannot give.

Dr. Kelley pointed out. "But they want and like more participation," he said, "and with it, they will have more loyalty to the University."

Student interest in the Kelley Report is revealed in the four-page supplement that ran on Tuesday in the undergraduate newspaper, "The Daily Princetonian." The report is a good one," said an editorial, "and Professor Kelley and his committee deserve high praise."

It was student unrest that brought the Kelley Committee to life. In May 1968, with the turmoil of the Columbia University campus a recent and vivid memory, Princeton students demonstrated in front of Nassau Hall demanding formation of a committee to "determine a way of restructuring the decision-making apparatus of the University."

The committee of 16 consisted of eight faculty members, four undergraduates, three graduate students and Dr. Gohsen.

TWELVE ARE DISCIPLINED
For Hickett Speech Disruption. Princeton University has suspended three seniors for one year and placed eight others including one graduate student on disciplinary probation for the remainder of their stay at the university for their part in the disruption of a speech by Secretary of the Interior Walter J. Hickel March 5.

Another student, a freshman, was placed on probation until the beginning of junior year. Charges against a 19th defendant, a graduate student, were dismissed for lack of evidence.

Reaction to the penalties, handed down by a seven-member student-faculty-administration committee, known as the Judicial Committee of the Council of Princeton University Community, was expressed by a protest rally on Monday staged by members of SDS.

After a mid-afternoon rally in front of Nassau Hall by 200 persons, some 40 to 50 jammed the office of Provost William G. Bowen to deliver a letter announcing their intention to appeal the rulings of the Judicial Committee and denouncing the appointment of the provost as "the proper appellate officer" in the case.

Mr. Bowen said he has no intention of disqualifying himself at the present time. He may reduce the penalties in the review process, but not increase them.

Faculty Backs Ruling. At a faculty meeting Monday, a resolution by History Professor Arno J. Mayer which would have put the faculty on record as favoring a reduction of the penalties was defeated by a 4-1 margin. The three seniors suspended had been on disciplinary probation.

tion in the past for violating the same policy on another occasion. The Judicial Committee added the further condition that if any of the students placed on disciplinary probation were found guilty of a repeated violation of the same policy they would be required to withdraw immediately from the University.

One of the major allegations raised by accused students was that the University had charged students on a highly selective basis in an attempt to purge the SDS leadership on campus. The Judicial Committee reported that it was not able to find any evidence whatsoever to support the charge.

The committee reported it was convinced by testimony that the Deans had made a careful attempt to identify and charge all of the participants in the disruption. "That a few individuals known to many people, because of their prominence in a campus demonstration, were easily identified is evidence of the hazards of public life, not of an Administration conspiracy. The president of the U.G.A. and the captain of the football team would undoubtedly have been easily identified as well had they appeared in this disruption."

Three suspenders for one year include: Robert Cohen, Matthew Meyers and James Tarlau. Placed on disciplinary probation for the remainder of their stay at the University were: Seniors Judith Corrente, David Hoffman and Olaf Oglund; Juniors, Richard Ostrow, Marc Rosenthal and Frederick Williams; sophomore, David Schaulder, and graduate student, Michael Teitelman. Freshman Rebecca Foultz was placed on probation until September 1971.

CURBS ARE PROBLEM

For Seminary, heavy runoff almost flooded the Planning Board Tuesday night as the new regional body re-considered the stipulations it laid down last month for Princeton Theological Seminary to follow in construction of the senior faculty home cluster on Mt. Lucas Road.

In executive session later in the evening the board voted 6-4 with one abstention to uphold its previous ruling.

The Seminary objects to: sidewalks and curbs in the project's interior; sidewalks and — especially — curbs and drains along Mt. Lucas; widening Mt. Lucas.

More curbs mean more channeling of rain-water and less chance for water to seep into the ground; more curbs could mean more water funneled down onto somebody else's lower property, right into the lap of a possible law-suit; walks and a widened Mt. Lucas would not benefit Seminary property-owners because homes will have reverse-frontage (backed up to Mt. Lucas) — these are the Seminary's arguments.

What causes particular anguish is a Township ordinance passed last July requiring curbs. Frank Reiche, Seminary counsel, says the Seminary wasn't aware of the ordinance's implications, didn't realize the law could be construed as requiring curbs everywhere in the Township.

Mr. Reiche asked the planning board to see whether Township Committee won't amend the ordinance, providing some "escape hatch" for developments like the Seminary's, that are essentially "rural."

Township Mayor John D. Wal-

DEATH ON ROUTE ONE: A pickup truck straddles the concrete median on Route One after it and two passenger cars collided around 3 a.m. Sunday morning south of the Penna Neck traffic circle just before the railroad trestle used by the "Dinky." by board member Gerald Breeze, Mr. Kaufman defined "temporary" as one to ten years. He added that the hospital hopes to have a parking garage in five years.

The hospital originally proposed 13 spaces on the lot, but after a meeting March 26 with the Township's site plan review board, prepared a revised plan for 11. The spaces, Mr. Kaufman explained, are additional parking for the hospital's overall plan, not specific parking for the mental health center.

Before a slide presentation of the hospital's long-range plans, hospital attorney Homer Zink and board member James Andrews, engaged in a brief skirmish on housing.

Dislocation Charged. Mr. Andrews asked how many houses the hospital had bought up along Henry Avenue and where their former owners were now. Mr. Zink replied "That's not a concern of the hospital's."

"Anything that reduces the supply of houses in Princeton is indeed a concern of the hospital's," Mr. Andrews retorted. "Is equivalent space provided elsewhere for these people?"

From the audience in Borough Hall, Dr. Harvey Rothberg said, "The sellers of these houses aren't being squeezed out—they're making a profit, profiteering on a non-profit corporation." Board member William Walker closed the exchange by remarking "When Borough and Township allowed the hospital to expand years ago, we knew all this. It's ancient history."

The board examined a 19-foot plan of Albert Salzman for more homes in the Crestview-Montadale area and took the plan into executive session. Mr. Salzman wants Township help in paying for a snippet of Stuart Road; prefers a 22-foot road width instead of the 24-foot 1/26 with curbs. The Township wants: asks Township help in solving a drainage problem and would rather not — and here the board fell into helpless laughter — would rather not build curbs.

CRASH KILLS TWO

On Route One Sunday. A pickup truck travelling north in the southbound lane of Route One early Sunday morning collided with two passenger cars coming in the opposite direction killing two men and injuring two others.

Dead on arrival at Princeton Hospital were Fred Hilbert, 27, of Whitesburg, Tenn., driver of the pickup, and Joseph Hoffing, 37, of Carteret, driver of one of the cars. Fuller Reed, 46, of Morrisstown, Tenn., who was riding with Hilbert, remains in the intensive care unit of Princeton Hospital suffering from head injuries.

Arthur Jackson, 68, of Irvington, driver of the third vehicle, suffered scalp cuts and is reported in satisfactory condition in the hospital.

West Windsor Police are looking for a witness to the accident, believed to have been a Princeton University student. The crash occurred just on the north side of the Penn Central trestle used by the "Dinky" which might have obstructed the sight of the oncoming pickup truck.

MORE ROOMS AT INN
University Plans Addition. A three-and-four-story addition to the Princeton Inn to house 140-150 students is on the drawing boards at Princeton University.
The structure in courtyard form, would occupy the present black-top parking lot between the Inn and the employees' dormitory on the south, according to John D. Haffner, director of the office of physical planning.

The University is moving toward the June take-over of the Inn for use as a girls' dormitory. Only three months ago, in December, Dr. Haffner told the Township Zoning Board that the University planned to remove part of the "sea of asphalt" around the Inn, including part of that particular parking area, and build a lawn.

He also told the Township board that the University hoped to have new dormitories by 1973, but didn't know where they would be built.

Before any bulldozers can move into the black-top, however, the University must make the required moves through municipal planning channels. First, plans must be submitted to the Township's zoning officer, W.
Joseph Shinn, who forwards them to the site plan review committee with his comments as to whether the plans comply

Time to Transplant

I saw a yellow
Daffodil!
(Upon a florist's Window-sill)

That old song, "Spring
Will Be a Little Late This Year," is regrettably being applied revived for 1970.
Spring is already extremely tardy.

There was clear indication, however, that things will get better. Temperatures are moving upwards into the 60s for the first time, and the showers are a possibility late Thursday, the Man said, but generally the mild weather should prevail through the weekend.

with Township zoning laws.

From the site plan review
the plans would then go to the new joint Borough-Township Planning Board. Approval, by the way, would not constitute any recommendations for zoning variances, if they're needed.

Parking. For a "transient" building which the Township Zoning Board has ruled the Inn to be—the Township requires one parking space for every four occupants. Mr. Shinn estimates that the University might need about 35 additional parking spaces.

Mr. Haffner admits the University loses parking spaces by putting up a building in the parking lot, but he says the University can provide the required parking elsewhere. "Probably not in underground garages," he says.

The Zoning Board hasn't ruled on the University's desire to provide the necessary parking at some other location than the Inn, using its peripheral parking lots scattered around the campus.

If parking is one consideration, golfing is another. Springdale Golf Club is an University-owned land adjoining the Princeton Inn and alarmed golfers have predicted the disappearance of this hole or that, for some time.
Last fall, John P. Moran, general manager of planning, plant and properties for the University, assured Springdale's board of governors that the course was safe for at least five years.

Security for the course is now firm, according to Springdale.
Additions to the Inn will not affect the 18th hole, which crosses the small lake and then parallels the southwest side of the Inn.

The University hopes to finance the Inn addition through the Higher Education Facilities Authority of New Jersey. Mr.
Haffner says, and also through the federal Department of Housing and Urban Development.
(HUD).

Cost is estimated at $1,250,000, or $8,000 per space. The University hopes to bring that cost down to the $7,000-per-space figure required by HUD.

POST OFFICE TO MOVE
If West Windsor Approves. The Princeton post office will move its carrying operations from the annex on University Place to the former D. Van Nostrand building on Alexander Road in West Windsor.

The zoning board last Thursday unanimously granted the post office the use variance it needs to locate in a light industrial zone. Next Monday, West Windsor's Township Committee will act on the zoners' recommendation.

Detailed drawings of plans to extend the black-top parking, and to plant screening, must be presented to Committee, the zoning board ruled.

If committee approval is granted, the Princeton men could make the move in about two weeks, according to John Dilworth, Princeton postmaster.

The old D. Van Nostrand building is now owned by V. P. Realty, whose head, William Crawford, lives at 179 Longview Drive. It was first spotted as a possible Princeton post office in mid-December by George Geary, Princeton's superintendent of mails. According to Mr. Dil-worth, Mr. Crawford bought the building only three days after the post office first saw it.

The structure contains about

22,500 square feet of space and will be leased from V. P. Realty for a two-year period. The rental has not been disclosed. Donald Perrino of Dutchess Realty, agents in the transaction, not only declined to give a rental figure but said he did not believe it should be a matter of public record.

All 35 Princeton letter-carriers will operate out of the Van Nstrand building. There will be no tractor-trailers and no Diesel trucks at the building, Mr. DiIworth told the zoning board Thursday. The post office's 19 "joes" will be stationed there. Two five-ton trucks make the Trenton-Princeton run and will be checking in at the building.

The Palmer Square post office will remain, Mr. DiIworth emphasizes, and the small branch in Center Stationers, in the Princeton Shopping Center, will continue.

Because the lease with V. P. is only for two years, officials in the Philadelphia regional office of the post office department will continue to search for a permanent site. And the search will be made in West Windsor, according to spokesmen in the real estate division of the Philadelphia office.

POLICE LAW PASSES

On Residency. An apparently routine ordinance, extending from eight miles to ten the radius from Township Hall in which a Township policeman can live, ignited a lengthy and often emotional discussion before Township Committee Monday night on middle income housing and social problems generally.

"You are legislating people out of town!" protested Mrs. Malcolm Diamond, 393 Walnut Lane. She said Township police couldn't afford homes in Princeton, and that Committee should be acting on middle-income housing instead of perpetuating the situation by extending the radius.

"Is housing the real reason?" questioned Committeeman James A. Floyd, "the police themselves asked us for this extension."

Not Recruiting Problem. Committeeman William L. Wilson, who is police commissioner, said the new rule would affect only two patrolmen. It is not a recruiting problem, he explained: "We have applicants who live right here in Princeton." He suggested that a man had a right to live where he wished and that some patrolmen might prefer "a little place in the country."

He agreed with Mrs. Diamond's statement that police should live in the town they control. "We'd prefer to have them here 24 hours a day, but we're only paying them for eight hours, after all."

Housing. "It is incorrect to suggest that Township Committee isn't moving as fast as possible on low and middle-income housing," Mayor John D. Wallace told Mrs. Diamond. "All of us are frustrated — if you have any suggestions, we'd be glad to have them."

Before the vote, Mr. Floyd advised Committee to "look hard" at all the ordinance's implications and to consider remarks made by citizens, including Mrs. Diamond. But in the vote, he joined Mr. Wilson's motion and Committeeman Thomas Hartmann's second, and the measure was passed unanimously.

Rates Up? Public Service's rate increase request is scheduled for PUC hearing this Thursday at 10 a.m., 101 Commerce St., Newark. Mr. Wilson speculated that the increase might go to wage hikes and not to dividend increases, but Mr. Floyd said he thought it would finance Public Service expansion.

Attorney Gordon Griffin was directed to write the PUC asking why the discrepancy between a 14 percent increase in electricity cost and only 3 percent increase in gas costs.

New Voting District. Voters in the Battle Park-Alexander area now belong to the Township's new Election District 11, carved away from District 2. Administrator Joseph R. Nini said District 2, with 1,100 voters, was too cumbersome. The dividing line will be Route 206 (Stockton Street-Lawrenceville Road). Edgerstons will remain in District 2.

Traffic. State highway engineers have promised both Montgomery and Princeton Townships to widen Route 206 from the Mary Watts store north to Route 518 "as soon as personnel and money are available." New 45 m.p.h. signs are expected in two weeks from the state for installation on Route 206 near Ewing Township and residents have pleaded with state officials for a reduction from 50 to at least 40 m.p.h., but 45 is the lowest the state will go.

A new bill before the state would alter the speed-limit formula and qualify more high-speed Township areas for the 25 m.p.h. speed, Mr. Nini reported.

Mr. Nini is scheduled to meet with state officials on the proposed Ewing jug-ban. The state has said it will build the "jug" if the Township pays for the needed right-of-way. For both state and Township, money is the handle of the jug.

Carl Schafer: Armorer to the King

It could be King Priam of Troy, it could be King Macbeth of Scotland. What they have in common, besides a crown, is their weapons expert — Carl C. Schafer Sr., Princeton roofer.

Swordsman in McCarters' current repertory production of Shakespeare's "Troilus and Cressida" lay on with broadswords of 20-gauge iron (four pounds each) and protect themselves with appropriate shields, all fabricated in the back shop of the Cooper and Schafer roofing company on Moran Avenue.

"It's a pleasure — I like to fool around with kind of stuff," says Mr. Schafer with a shy smile.

This is Mr. Schafer Senior, father of the former Township mayor. Another son Robert, was Princeton's chief not too many years ago.

Mr. Schafer himself has been around for a long time, longer than you would guess from the spring in his walk and the glint in his eye. "I was born in Princeton, I started my firm here in 1929."

"Lay on, Macduff." He has cut and welded for McCarters Theatre for almost as long, moving freely in time and space over the years: Greek and Trojan weapons at the moment, but also weaponry for the medieval French kings, Scottish thanes, stout British yeomen — everybody, in fact, who doesn't use a rapier. For those actors use regular fencing foils.

"The lady from McCarters — Jeni Ager — drew these patterns for the swords she wanted: four each of two kinds and 10 of another kind, and 25 shields, and she wanted them HEAVY. Those actors, you know, they use considerable force."

Swords and shields are spot welded (see photo). Only takes about a day and a half to complete a job, Mr. Schafer says. "I like to do these things for McCarters; you know, it would be out of the question for them to get this job done in Trenton or New York — those firms, they don't take on smaller jobs like this."

Turning from history on stage to history as it really was, Mr. Schafer has been working on the restoration of Banbridge House, home of the MAN WITH A SWORD: Carl C. Schafer Sr., spot-welder of sword guard for "Troilus and Cressida."

LAST TIME SATURDAY

For "Ah, Wilderness." One of the most popular productions of the current repertory season at McCartier will play to its final audience this Saturday at 8:30 p.m.

It's "Ah, Wilderness." in which Eugene O'Neill describes in affecting detail the amish of first love and the torments of growing up.

Richard Pilcher plays the teenage hero, John Braden and Leila Cannon are his anxious parents;
Beth Dixon is the sniggering aunt and Gordon Phillips, her eternal and eternally alcoholic beau, Sid.

This Friday at 8:30, the resident repertory company will play Shakespeare's "Troilus and Cressida," which entered the repertoire last month.
Tickets for both performances may be reserved by calling Mc-Cartier's box-office, 924-8700.

TICKETS NOW!

For "Most Happy Fella." Curtain time is four weeks away for the 1970 P.J. & B. musical
"The Most Happy Fella," but tickets are already on sale at the McCartier box-office.

The annual production will be given at McCartier on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, May 7, 8 and 9. These P.J.&B. musicals have a ten-year history in Princeton, and for nine of the ten years, the director has been — and is this year — Milton Lyon.
Cast? To be announced. But rehearsals have already begun, so presumably there is a cast.

Songs follow so closely in "The Most Happy Fella" that it's almost an opera, and not just a musical. Tunes include "Standing on the Corner," "Big D" and "Somebody, Somewhere."
The story, adapted from Sidney Howard's play, is laid in California's grape-growing Napa Valley in the 1930s. It tells about a lonely immigrant rancher who orders a mail-order bride.
Frank Loesser wrote the music.
It was his third Broadway show, preceded by "Where's Charley?"
and "Guys and Dolls."

AVANT-GARDE WEST II
Tickets on Sale Now. Seats are unreserved, but you can buy tickets now at the McCartier box-office for the Monday, April 20 evening, "Avant Garde West II."

About 15 of the leading West Coast experimental film-makers will be represented. The subject matter includes computers, Hell's Angels, Haight-Ashbury and occultism, in case you're making a head count.

Jim Henson, who created Sesame Street's Muppets, will be represented by "Time Piece," a study of man's life today in the urban squirrel-cage.
"Sean," Ralph Arky's first-prize winner in the National Electronic Film Festival last year, will also be on the program. It's the Haight-Ashbury scene, through the comments of a ten-year old boy, who has hippie paranets.

Kenneth Anger's latest work,
"Invocation for my Demon Brother," is based on the mystic writings of the late Aleister Crowley, a master of magic and the occult.

Jordan Belson will be represented with "Alhures." Will Hindle with "Bilabong" and Don Symanski with "Lady Red-dog Returns."

James Broughton's "The Bed," one of the hits of the last Avant Garde evening at McCartier, will be shown again.

"FIDEL"

At McCartier. The only feature-length documentary on Fidel Castro and Cuba's orrorters since his revolution will be shown next Tuesday at 8 in Mc-Cartier as one of the New Cinema Series.

Saul Landau, director of "Fidel," spent weeks traveling with the Cuban leader and his associates. The result is a report on Fidel and the continuing revolution today, backed up with shots of Fidel and Che in the mountains during the revolution itself, and with footage of the Bay of Pigs invasion that has never been shown before. There are also frank interviews with political prisoners.

JOE AND THE FISH
With Rock. The most recent sounds of San Francisco rock will echo through Alexander Hall next Saturday, April 18, when Country Joe and the Fish bring on guitar, organ, bass, harmonica and drums and begin to work at 8 p.m.

Country Joe and the Fish will appear under joint sponsorship of the Class of 1973 at the University, and McCarter Theatre. Tickets are on sale at the McCarter office.

Country Joe McDonald, who writes most of the group's music himself, is one of the artists featured individually in the film, "Woodstock."

"THE BOY FRIEND"
At Princeton Day School, PDS' second annual musical will open next Friday, April 17 at 8:30 in the school auditorium, and the schedule calls for performances again on Sunday afternoon at 3 p.m. and the following Friday, April 24, again at 8:30.

In the cast of 32 are Chris Reeve, Kristel Garver, Bob Norman, Alison Gilbert, Laurie Merrick, Jeremy Bonner, Jodie Platt, David Mack, and Chris Smith. Judy Kleinberg and Allyn Love lead the chorus of 16 — eight boys, eight girls.

Herbert McAneney is directing, assisted by Frank Jacobson. David McAneney is directing, assisted by Frank Jacobson. David McAneney is directing, assisted by Frank Jacobson.

SPECIAL
John Sebastian, etc., ... and Seals & Crofts. The double bill of John Sebastian plus the new team of Seals & Crofts, will come to Alexander Hall on Saturday, May 2, at 8 p.m.

Seals & Crofts write their own material and accompany themelves on everything from guitar and mandolin to string bass. One critic said they sounded like a "cross-breeding of Simon & Garfunkle and the Everly Brothers."

John Sebastian founded The Lovin' Spoonful and served as its chief performer-aranger until he decided to break the group apart and to go it alone on a solo career.

His first solo album, "John B. Sebastian" was recently released. He is the author of "Summer in the City," "Do You Believe in Magic?" and "Did You Ever Make Up Your Mind?"

OFF OFF-ER
In New Brunswick. Before there was New Brunswick and Brecht West.

That's the schedule, at any rate, for Andre Grozory's adult production of "Alice in Wonderland," booked at Brecht West for a special preview next Thursday through Saturday, and April 23, 24 and 25. Brecht West is at 61 Albany Street, New Brunswick.

"Alice" will move to an off-Broadway opening after New Brunswick.

The camp musical "Bringing It All Back Home" will be given a single performance at Brecht West this Friday at 8:30.

The theatre has been invited to perform at Festival of the Arts Festival planned for this Saturday by the North Jersey Arts Council. Brecht West will offer Ionesco's "The Lesson" and "Bringing It All Back."

PROGRAM ANNOUNCED
For Ballet Theatre. Four dances by American choreographers will be featured on the program this Sunday at 8 p.m. to be presented in McCarter by the American Ballet Theatre.

"The Combat," by William Dollar, will be the main work of the evening. Dollar uses Tasso's poem to tell the tragic love story of the pagan girl Clorinda and the Christian warrior Tancred. Music is by the French composer Rameau de Banfield. George Balanchine's "Grand

FOR THE NATIONAL GUARD: That's not Carolle Channing in the chair there at Princetonian Hairstyling — it's SP/2 Frank Warner with Michael Maryk starting to cut Frank's new stretch wig to suit the close-crop specifications of the National Guard. (For other uses of the stretch wig, see it's New To Us.)

IT'S NEW To Us

HIS WIG WON'T FLIP
Even In A Sandstorm. A corporate executive strolled out of Princetonian Hair Styling for Men, 341 Nassau Street, on Friday looking the role of alert, capable management, well-groomed and close-cropped.

"He's wearing a stretch wig," co-owner Michael Maryk told us on the side. "We gave it a conservative cut, because that's the way his company likes its executives to look. But underneath is his own hair, the way He likes it."

Businessmen aren't the only ones who know a good $65 compromise when they see one. Re-servants and soldiers buy wigs out to pass inspection — and they took all that long hair underneath.

The Princetonian stretch wigs come in 24 shades of hair. The hair is synthetic and therefore doesn't fade as human hair does. And since the base stretches, there's no need to use the two-sided gummed tape that the regular hairpiece requires.

Michael Maryk pulled over his head a stretch wig cut in today's rather longish style, tucking his own hair underneath. "It's a snug fit that doesn't move on your head," he told us. "Here, pull my hair." We did, and the wig stayed.

Some clients have their fun hair cut given to the wig and underneath wear the conservative style that their business demands. But almost all of them wear the wigs because their wives have said, "Why not?"

"It's a whole new ball game," Mr. Maryk assures us. "Wives feel positive about wigs—they have one or more themselves. A lot of men are just beginning to realize that the constant coaxing and cajoling to look young that comes from their wives is because men really are extensions of the wife's ego. She'd certainly like him to look his best — to look the way she feels. And wanting to look young and attractive — why shouldn't he complement her?"

Glancing into the mirror as he combed the stretch wig into the lines he wanted, he added jokingly, "And at the next mirror is my wife and she's putting on her wig—and off we go into the world..."

The Princetonian stretch wigs are made to special specifications. The clients have many options as to design, color, and so on.

"Hairpieces used to be so obvious," Mr. Maryk went on, returning the stretch wig to the shelves. "Now you can't see that a man's wearing a hair piece. He not only looks younger but he feels younger."

He took from a cabinet a wig of human hair. "This is a partial," he explained. "It's held on by double faced tape. We took samples of the client's hair and this matches perfectly. No one can buy a better one anywhere. It was made to our specifications by Parucca di Roma."

"A man who's been making do with a perimeter of hair around the lower part of his head—when he makes a move to a hairpiece, we'll give him something like this."

"While the hairpiece is being made, we start allowing what hair he has to grow in — longer sideburns and maybe a mustache. When he first wears the hairpiece, we shave off the mustache — and people almost invariably say, 'I see you shaved off your mustache.' There's no other comment."

Today's youth pressure has given a tremendous push to hairpiece acceptance among men, especially if it hits their job security, the Princetonian notes.

And if a man doesn't want to go to the expense of a $300 hairpiece, the new stretch wigs are worth looking into.

Pas Glazounov" will be on the program, and also will "Deviant with Stripes," by John Taras, a Balachine prelude and ballet music of the New York City Ballet.

The American Ballet Theatre players will also perform "Divertissement d'Auber," the comedy by Lew Christensen, who is principal choreographer of the San Francisco Ballet.

TORONTO TRIP PLANNED

For Ballet Troupe. The Princeton Regional Ballet Company has won the chance to perform two of its specially choreographed ballets at the Toronto festival of the North-east Regional Ballet Association in May. Only eight of the 10 ballet companies in the region will be represented, and only one besides Princeton will give two ballets.

The festival board notified Princeton's 25 dancers and directors last week that their "Urapuru," a story ballet, and their classical ballet based on "Concerto-Fantasia" by Tchaikovsky, had both been accepted as a result of try-out performances here in February. The reviewer was Fernand Nault, former ballet master with the American Ballet Theater of New York City.

"Urapuru" was choreographed by Jerry Ross, a seasoned Broadway performer and choreographer who heads the modern jazz department of the Princeton Ballet Society. Based on a score by Villa-Lobos, the story derives from a Brazilian folk legend about an enchanted bird.

Lila Popper Bruner, ballet mistress of the troupe, choreographed the classical "Concerto-Fantasia" ballet. Miss Bruner instructs regularly for the Princeton Ballet Society.

The dancers who will be going to Toronto are Amanda Aldridge, Dorothy Alston, Catherine Biewener, Donna Bryan, Lisa Bulwinkle, Mary Fike, Daniel Frohman, Gregory Gladowski, Justin Gladowski, Anne Goldstein, Virginia Hepburn, Poise Higgins, Natalie Huslor, Sherry Kaplan, Valerie Lemmon, Jill Lermer, Jan Leviton, Kathy Richards, Daniel Rubin, Buddy Smith, Deb Smith, Donna Pingray, Sharn Terry, Barbara Wagner and Diana Zeydel.

Other companies performing at the festival will represent the cities of Cleveland, Dayton, Detroit, Bethlehem, Schenectady, Ottawa, Washington D.C., and Berkshire (Massachusetts).

The Princeton company is scheduled to arrive in Toronto Thursday May 21, give performances Friday and Saturday nights and return home Sunday. During their stay they will live in dormitories at the University of Toronto, with expenses paid by the festival.

GARDEN

They Shoot Horses, Don't They? (now playing) is a bitingly effective drama presenting society in a microcosm during the depression of the Thirties. The setting is a second ballroom in the Los Angeles area, the action revolves around a dance marathon. "Hullo, hullo, how long can they last?"

The cast contestants include Jane Fonda, Susanah York, Robert Fields, Red Buttons and Michael Sarrazin. Gai Young is powerful, even overwhelming in a sensitive portrait of the master of ceremonies. Always a bit grimy, his ultimate corruption in spite vestiges of humanity endures the whole ballroom. Jane Fonda delivers her biting remarks with every saving grace, manages to communicate her hopes and eventual despair.

PLAYHOUSE, TRENT, PRINCE Anne of the Thousand Days (now playing). The film derives from the Maxwell Anderson play that opened in New York late in 1948 with Rex Harrison and Joyce Redman in the leading roles. Some of the changes are obvious, the blank verse and the soliloquies have been discarded. But the main plot line is followed faithfully by screen writers John Hale and Briefer Boland who have developed a literate, witty and dramatically vital screen play.

The story traces the passion of Henry VIII for the young Anne while he was wed to Katharine; the break with the Vatican; the disenchantment of the monarch when Anne bears him a daughter instead of a son; her trial, and finally, her execution.

The acting of Richard Burton as Henry is Oscar-worthy. He is forcefully spoken and husky in manner. Genevieve Builloud, much-acclaimed new actress, is a lovely and spirited Anne, projecting the fire and passion that Henry is Oscar-worthy. He is Henry is Oscar-worthy. He is Henry is Oscar-worthy. He is Henry is Oscar-worthy.

It's New To Us

men, made by such international comes in the industry as Bally of Switzerland, Amalfi of Italy, Brevitt of England.

For the girls, Richard's has a complete collection of the Gladiators clogs - oxfords, closed toes, pumps, sneakers, leathers. "The hottest thing in the industry," Dick Lanahan will tell you. "And they are a gentle exercise for your feet, too."

In the men's shoes, the most important thing is still the boot. "I don't see any trend back to the lace shoe," Mr. Lanahan adds, "although I carry many lace shoes from the lightweight to the heavier brogans."

"The rally boot is coming on strong," he said. "It's almost as low as a regular shoe, and has a side buckle. Then there's the George, with a blucher front and strap; the jodhpur, side-zip plain or with buckles; and the two-eyelid tieboots." The makers include Bally, Wright Arch Preserver, Brodston and British Consul's ($29.95).

Among the young bloods in town, however, Richard's finds that the John Frye boot line is a winner. "About every kid in town wants these," The Frye firm makes a handcrafted cowboy boot designed to duplicate the Union cavalry boot of the Civil War. There are pulls on either side, a square toe and the leather is slightly grayed. The brigade boot with outer strapping comes in a darker brown leather. Some of the Frye boots feature double rings on the cross strap. All are in the $40 range.

While we're on the men's side at Richard's we want to tell you about a benchmade English shoe they're carrying, made by Trickers of Jermyn Street, Piccadilly. These, on monk straps and tie versions, all around $39. The leathers are fine and soft. The shoes may be ordered on a custom basis.

For women, Richard's has some 20 different styles of sandals, including the handmade flats of heavy calf ($13) and the delicate Capzio straps-only version.

The Amalfi sandals have a marvelous cushioned insole that makes you feel bright and gay. In white, a wide strap model that is attractive - others in tans, browns and black patent.

The Miss Bally sandals have a closed-heel and sling back, with an intricate pattern of openings. You can have these in brown or white or black calf. "Repelle" calf is due in any day.

You'll be slightly amazed by the hinged clasp made by Bally. This is a light-weight shoe with a sole easily 1/2-inch thick. The hinge is near the ball of the foot - affording great flexibility.

Also at Richard's are the neat little slip-ons called "Porto" designed with a moccasin toe, in white and beige or red and blue. The moccasin unit is outlined in the second toe. The heels are medium. ($19.)

Ladies' shoes range in price from $13 to about $30, and include Nina's amusing ghillies with six brass rings for the leather lace ($23).

Lucas, says the state, can be reduced from 50 to 35 m.p.h., except for the school area where it will remain 25.

Commutation. The 7:40 may yet be saved. The state's Commuter Operating Agency, acknowledging that its agreement with Penna Central to subsidize the extra commuter train expires June 30, says it expects to reach an agreement with the railroad on continuing the 7:40, which stops at Princeton Junction.

Higher Proof. Liquor license fees will be increased 20 percent under an ordinance introduced Monday and scheduled for public hearing April 20. The Township's six bars will pay $860 a year, up from $720, and the single retail outlet will pay $420, up from $360.

State law permits a maximum raise of 20 percent for $500, whichever is smaller. The ceiling is $2,000. The last license increase was about four years ago.

Action on a new strip of Snowden Lake sidewalk was held over to April 20 for an engineer's report on exactly where the new walk will go, and just which trees may have to be cut.

Henry J. Frank, Traffic Safety chairman told Committee this is the "most crucial sidewalk" at the moment, in terms of children's safety.

"Can you prove that sidewalks equal safety?" retorted Mr. Wilson. "I'm not sure there's any proof."

Mrs. Diamond returned to the discussion to ask whether "proof" might mean a dead child, and urged Committee to build the walk.

Lt. Richard Seider of the Township police, said that without a walk, the area was hazardous for children walking to school.

IN BOROUGHS: NEW FACES Carick, Noting, Alan Carrick, Republican Borough Councilman, will not run for fourth term on Council this fall. Last week, Republican Fred Peterson said he wouldn't be running, either, so the two available seats on Borough Council this year are both open to newcomers.

The Democrats are interviewing, hoping to tip the present 3-3 party balance on Council by filling at least one of those two seats.

In the Township, Republican William L. Wilson said Monday night that he still hasn't decided whether to seek a fourth term. The Democrats are held

Township Police Exam Set

An examination for a position on the Township Police Department will be held at 7 p.m. on May 11 in Community Park School.

Men between the ages of 21 and 35 who are at least 5'8" and 150 pounds, in good health, and New Jersey residents, are eligible to take the exam. Successful candidates must agree to comply with all local and state laws governing residence requirements.

Applicants' names and further information may be obtained at Police Headquarters, Township Hall. The starting salary for police officers is $8,700 with a maximum of $10,400 after four years of service, plus full hospital, medical and major medical coverage.

ing candidate-selection meetings, but haven't selected a candidate. The deadline is April 23—only two weeks away.

SIX WAIVE HEARING

On Gambling Charges. Five Princeton residents and a Brooklyn man waived a preliminary hearing in Borough court last week where they had appeared to answer gambling charges. Their bail was continued while they wait action by a Mercer County Grand Jury. All were arrested February 26 in a series of raids conducted by the N.J. State Police.

All have been charged with possession of lottery slips. Roosevelt Lee, 63, 114 Witherspoon Street, and Clinton Owens, 70, 152 Witherspoon, were also charged with maintaining a premise for the purpose of illegal gambling and working as a messenger for an illegal lottery. Their bail is $4,000.

Held in $4,000 bail are Robert Burroughs, 50, 188 Witherspoon Street; Bobby V. Marshall, 34, 12 Berrier Court; and Oshrao N. Davis, 65, of Brooklyn. In addition, each was charged with acting as a lottery messenger.

Naomi M. Irving, 23, 35 Clay Street, was held in $2,000 bail. Detectives Thomas Milbrancy, Richard Kelly, Robert McMahon and Joseph Bartzak were the complainants.

Nemiah Foxworth, 25, 181 Witherspoon Street was held for grand jury action and his $100 bail continued after he waived a preliminary hearing. He has been charged with entering an unlocked room in Holder Hall in March and stealing $48 from a wallet belonging to Arthur Schmitt, one of the occupants.

Joseph Richardson, 28, 42 Cordova Avenue, Lawrenceville, was held $25 for trespassing in Holder Hall on March 25. He pleaded guilty.

Eugene Martin, no address, was sentenced in 30 days in the Mercer County Workhouse after he was found in a doorway at 184 Witherspoon by Ptl. Charles Harris.

Two men were ordered to pay $10 court costs after assault charges on each were dropped. They are Marino Gill, 33, 24 N. Harrison Street, and Ross Boyer, 19, 549 State Road.

MINK STOLE TAKEN

From Hunt Drive Home. A mink stole valued at $750 and some jewelry were taken Saturday from the home of Vreeland Flagg, 172 Hunt Drive.

Township police report that the intruder hurled a brick through a sliding glass window.

EARTH DAY APRIL 22

a disease has infected our country... it has brought smog to Yosemite, garbage to Stony Brook, sprayed DDT in your food, and is turning Lake Carnegie into a septic, fishless, weedy lagoon.

its carrier is you, your wife, your children.

On April 22, we start to reclaim the environment we have wrecked.

April 22 is the Environmental Teach-In, a day of environmental action.

Thousands of communities and campuses across the nation are involved.

Earth Day is being planned and organized at the local level. People in each community are deciding for themselves the issues and activities upon which to focus.

A lot is happening in the Princeton community on and before April 22.

Princeton's Earth Recovery Festival, a day of community clean-up, is on April 19.

Several showings of the film, "Eco-Image 1970," will be on campus the evening of April 20.

On April 21 the Princeton Community Meeting occurs in Dillon Gym. There you will hear Laurence Rockefeller, Senator Case, Richard Sullivan, Gordon MacDonald and others talk on the environment of the '70's.

April 22 is a full day of workshops on the campus, and action projects all over the community.

There's a dying world submerged in your streams and lakes, and suspended in your air and lungs. We must teach ourselves how urgently this world needs attention.

We're trying, but our efforts take money. Money to pay our speakers, our phone, our mailings, our activities and our advertisements. We are a non-profit, educational, and community organization.

Already many have offered to help. It takes commitment to save our environment. Please help us.

Our information number is 452-3627. We welcome suggestions and aid, and we'll be glad to give you details on the Teach-In.

Sponsorships are $25 for individuals or $50 for organizations. All Sponsors will be gratefully acknowledged on our program.

Don Allen And His Electric Flower Shop

Boy! The heroes of my youth Where are they today? Jack Armstrong, Tom Swift, Horatio Alger . . . They inspired a guy! Work hard, mind your own business and you'd get ahead. What a credo. Heady stuff! On reflection though it's easy to see why they could not be heroes in today's market. Our progeny are too perceptive. They'd shoot them full of holes. Take Tom Swift, the boy inventor. Suppose Tom wanted to invent an electric airplane today. First, how could he get backing. He would have to convince his bank that he had so many assets he really didn't need what he was asking for. If he did get the money, he'd probably run afoul of an ordinance preventing him from building anything in his back yard. He would need a lawyer of course to fend off the city naysayers opposing his using anything but an internal combustion engine and also to protect his patent rights. Then there would be the trade unions pressure against his using non-union labor.

If he got it built, chances are the FAA would not license it, if he got it into the air he probably couldn't find a place to land. Landing in a farmer's field makes you liable for crop damage. You can't land on a turnpike. There are too many cars and it's unlawful besides. Without first calling in on your radio, you cannot land at many airports, and of course the federal communications must license you to operate a civilian radio without "call letters" the tower won't take you in and assign you a number to land. And as a final blow, all the traffic controllers might be out sick besides.

No Tom, Forget it. Gone is the simplicity of yesteryear. You are my hero and no one else.

Of course you might stage a comeback. Let your hair grow, Tom. Shun bathing. You might even invent an electric guitar with strobe lights. Forget about voice lessons, though, that would be a waste. Then try to get on the Ed Sullivan show.

Think about it Tom.

Heavens. I do get carried away. I started out to try and sell you some poems and wound up blowing my advertising budget for the week on my "vanity journalism". Just let me say we are doing business at the same old stand and will have a choice of 8 Generous $1.00 Flower Specials Again This Weekend. Be nice to each other until we meet again.

at the rear of house to gain entry. A master bedroom was ransacked.

Pit. David Wilbur of the Township police investigated. Police believe the house's alarm was activated when the thief left.

A $200 20-gauge shotgun and a .32 caliber rifle were stolen last week from the home of Mario DiDonato, 61 Leigh Avenue, Township police report.

Also taken was a bottle of whiskey, a package of balloons and some beer. Pit. John Harnmond investigated the entry and reported no sign of forced entry.

JOHN ST. MAN CHARGED
In Car Thefts, Alexander Rodriguez, 23 199 John Street, has been charged with the possession of property which he and an accomplice allegedly stole early Saturday from cars parked in the vicinity of the Princeton Inn. After an arraignment before Borough Judge Theodore T. Tams Jr., he was released in $250 bail to await a court hearing on Wednesday. The second suspect escaped.

Rodriguez and his companion were seen by Sgt. Robert Anderson and Pit. Joseph Wilhelm, on car patrol, rummaging through suitcases at 1:50 in the morning at the railway station on University Place. When the police stopped their car, the two men fled.

Rodriguez was apprehended a short time later near Baker Rink by a University security officer and handed over to the Borough police. According to police, the pair had broken into about five cars near the Inn and stole suitcases containing men's and women's clothing, a tape recorder and a camera. The total value of everything, police said, was about $1,000. With the exception of the camera, nearly all of the loot was returned to the owners.

WOMEN'S WALLETS TAKEN

In Separate Thefts, A total of $200 was reported lost last week by two women who were the victims of separate purse thefts. Mrs. Ann M. Owens of Necharnic left her purse on a shopping cart in a food store in the Princeton Shopping Center late Monday afternoon and it was gone when she returned minutes later. It was later found on a magazine rack in the store, minus its wallet containing $70. Sgt. Petrone investigated for Township police.

A New Brunswick woman visiting her husband in "Merwick" Saturday lost $200 when she laid her purse on the floor and left the room momentarily. Borough police checked the area without success. They identified the victim as Mrs. Mary Bittig.

In other thefts, the manager of the Radio Shack in the Shopping Center reported the theft Saturday of a $140 radio transmitter from a shelf. He told police the theft took place between 11 in the morning and 9 p.m. Michael Hennessey called police on Friday to report the theft of a $90 radio from his room in the Princeton Inn Dormitory on Alexander Street. Pit. William Potts, who investigated, reported there was no sign of forced entry.

Eileen Erickson of Pompton Lakes reported the theft early last week of the battery from her car parked in the Princeton Hospital lot of Franklin Avenue. She valued it at $30.

BLACK FIREMEN?

Mayor Meets Companies, "We're not going to let it die," commented Borough Mayor Robert W. Cavley Tuesday about the admission of black firemen to Princeton's three volunteer fire companies.

Mayor and Council met last Thursday with the presidents of the three companies. "They want to solve the problem themselves," the mayor explained, "and the borough will help, if possible. They are sincere in their desire for a solution."

No date has been set for any future meetings, the mayor said. Such meetings would be at the request of the fire companies, he added.

Middle-income housing will occupy mayor and council this Thursday at agenda session. Members of the League of Women Voters and Lowell F. Curran — Continued on Next Page

UPSET ABOUT TEACHER?
New Complaint Procedure. A mother who thinks teacher isn't doing right of her Johnny must follow a new set of complaint procedures starting July 1.

The new, step-by-step guide is incorporated into the new teachers' contract. Copies are available in the schools.

In the past, it has been possible for a parent to complain to a principal and to ask him not to tell the teacher involved. Parents have been afraid that the teacher would take it out on Johnny the next day in class.

Under the new procedure, the principal must meet with the teacher and outline the full nature of the complaint. Together, they will try to solve it informally and the teacher has the right to be represented by the PFEA (the teachers' organization) at this or any other meeting.

If this doesn't work, the teacher can ask for a conference with the complaint. It might be a student or indeed anyone, but is mostly likely to be a parent.

The situation then moves along through review by the principal, submission in writing by teacher or complainant to the superintendent, conference with superintendent, the superintendent's recommendation, in writing, to the board and finally, a meeting with the board.

If the problem still hasn't been solved, the grievance machinery of the teachers' contract can be started, although everybody hopes it won't go that far.

Incidentally, this new procedure should eliminate all parental telephone calls to school board members. The procedures start with a complaint "to any member of the administration."

$700 IS TAKEN
From Bank Branch. The branch office of the Princeton Bank & Trust in the Princeton Shopping Center was the victim of a $700 theft on April Fool's Day.

According to Township police, a thief reached over the counter when a cashier left her cage to go to the rear of the branch office and scooped up $700 in $10 bills. The bank notified the police at 2:35 p.m. and Pat Clinto Carnvale investigated.

TO APPEAL?
Mangone Wins, So Far. Borough Council will consider this Thursday whether to appeal a Superior Court ruling which favors Saviero Mangone of 40 Jefferson Road and two buildings at 43-45 Linden Lane.

Ruling against the Borough Zoning Board, the Court pointed out that the Borough had allowed Mr. Mangone's non-conforming use for a long time before denying him the use of variance to keep four apartments he owns in the two buildings.

TWO CARS HIT
By Falling Branches. Thursday's drenching rains brought the usual flooding on River Road and Quaker Bridge roads in the Township, but the high winds that accompanied the storm also brought a scare to two drivers.

Karlfrid Froehlich of 38 Alexander Street received lacerations of the face when his windshield was shattered by a falling limb at 7:12 p.m. on Route 206 near Valley Road. The limb damaged the roof, windshield and vent window of the Froehlich car which was moving at the time.

James Margolis of Oakland Road escaped injury but his car

Thoughts on Becoming 90 Years Old

"I've got everything except a man!" she smiles and watches to see if you grin at the joke.

Mrs. Billie Swan also has 90 full years of life and she celebrated them Sunday with a birthday party in her Lloyd Terrace apartment attended by friends, black and white, from all over.

Born in Maryland on April 6, 1880, she came to Princeton in 1924 and worked here for the next 32 years, chiefly for the family of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Erdman. She retired in 1956.

Ever since she came to Princeton 46 years ago, she has been a member of the Mt. Pisgah A.M.E. congregation and she doesn't miss a Sunday. (She missed this one, though: too busy getting ready for the party.)

In 1968, she was named "Woman of the Year" at Mt. Pisgah's annual Woman's Day and she was presented with a certificate citing her "For Outstanding Christian Service." A vigorous woman with vigorous opinions, she is disdainful of the militancy she hears about in some young black men and women.

"I am just as good as anybody else in the world," she says with pride, "and if those young people would behave, they'd show folks they're just as good as anybody."

"DINKY" DANGER
Shuttle Service. May 13. Abandonment of the "Dinky" which provide shuttle service between Princeton and Princeton Junction is still a long-range possibility. Penn Central officials said this week such action is an undetermined length of time away, but is clearly under consideration.
The railroad has made available a 29-page report dated April 11, citing facts, figures and plans. It calls for a 50 percent reduction of the commuter shuttle from Princeton to Princeton Junction.

Miss Allghyera to Marry
Svetlana Allghyera of 50 Waver Road and William W. Brown, an Arizona architect, daughter of a marriage license in Phoenix this week. Their immediate plans were not made public and reports that they were married on Tuesday were denied by the Frank Wright Foundation near Phoenix with which the 26-year old Mr. Peter is associated.

Miss Allghyera, 44, daughter of the late Russian dictator, Josef Stalin, has been a resident resident for more than two years. Her book, "Only One Year," published last September, details her experiences in being a native land by way of India and coming to the United States. Three months ago, Russia stripped her of her citizenship. "For discarding the status of a Soviet citizen," a son and a daughter by a previous marriage still live in the U.S.S.R.

According to the 1965 agreement with the state, Penn Central promised to do without capital improvements. Thirty-five of 80 new cars of the Jersey Arrow type have been delivered. The balance of the cars was delayed until the transit bond referendum passed.

Penn Central has received $7.7 million in bond last year, much of it for the Arrow and for rehabilitating old cars. The state has received $6.6 million and one-half times that amount; and the Jersey Central five times the amount.

"I think the Penn Central would be delighted to have us get mad about cancelling the 7.40," Mr. Harford commented. "The subsidy is $80,000," he said.

Assemblyman Schluter noted that passenger traffic is "up 30%," since the 1963 contract was arranged. "On a per capita basis," he said, "commuters get more of a subsidy than any other class of people in the state.... We just have to resolve this railroad problem."

FEMINIST VIEWPOINT

To Re Hear Friday. "New Feminism" Bureau registered women's officers will be the subject of a discussion by Sheila Tobias, a national officer of the National Organization of Women (NOW), Friday at 3 on the campus of Princeton University.
Wendy Tobias, who is assistant to the vice president for academic affairs at Cornell University, will speak in Longfield House of Green Hall after lunch is open to the public.

Housing Bias Noted.

To the Editor of Town Topics.
The policy of the current Princeton Master Plan is to permit a limited number of "low and middle income housing units." This means that higher income residents of the Township are required to leave the community if they desire to live in an apartment. Increasing comment views this as discrimination against higher income citizens. Discrimination is an unwelcome word.

It is my opinion that if apartments are to be permitted, the policy should include all economic levels. The time is approaching to thoroughly reexamine this entire question with the view of providing appropriate housing for all residents of Princeton Township.

Professional planners will concur that it is technically and aesthetically feasible to intermingling small projects of low density garden apartments and town houses in areas of single family zoning.

This has been done successfully in foreign countries for many years and is receiving increasing attention in the U.S. Such projects would, of course, have to be thoroughly grounded in good architectural planning, neighborhood acceptability, minimum traffic and economic feasibility.

Princeton is losing increasing numbers of its older residents who would prefer apartment living but who cannot qualify for the "low and middle income" category. Their preference would be for larger deluxe accommodations that would more than support their own tax load.

Many of these residents have contributed extensively to the welfare of the Township over the years and the community can ill afford to lose their services just because they can't find satisfactory housing.

NOTICE

TOWN TOPICS will make every effort, based on space limitations, to publish up to 500 words of any letter on a subject directly affecting the Princeton area. Because of the volume of news which must be covered at the community level, letters on topics of a national or international nature cannot be considered.

Letters to Mailbox should be typewritten if possible, double-spaced, and must be signed for publication. Those received later than Monday afternoon may be held for use the following week.

Township Committee Thanked.

To the Editor of Town Topics:
Following is the text of a letter written to Township Mayor John D. Wallace.

MR. AND MRS. JOHN L. JOHNSON

340 Exing Street

Our primary purpose in writing this note is to express our appreciation to you and to your associates in the Princeton Township Committee for your efforts to prevent the Post Office Distribution Center from being placed in our neighborhood.

We think it took considerable courage to stand behind your position and the residents of the community against the pressure of the Borough Chamber of Commerce.

A second purpose of this note is to raise the question of whether it would be possible for the Township Attorney to draft legislation which our State Representatives would introduce in the Assembly to counteract the State Supreme Court ruling which would enable private developers to get around local ordinances by leasing land to the Federal Government.

It seems clear that an appeal to the U.S. Supreme Court would be useless. However, this legal threat could in the long run pose an even greater threat than the placing of the Post Office Warehouse on a residential street would have been. We think the Thand Corporation may have done considerable damage to New Jersey government.

Finally, we do appreciate your cooperating with Mr. Campbell, the Chief of Police, in getting stricter enforcement of the speed limits on Township streets. Too many people speed on Exing and Harrison Streets between Route 206 and Franklin Avenue, especially when on their way to or from work or when going to the shopping center.

We see frequent pedestrians and bicyclists in this area and wonder how soon someone will be hurt. Similarly, too many hurry past the student housing area on South Harrison despite the frequent presence of small children.

Thank you again for all your efforts in behalf of the residents of our community.

INJECTIONS AVAILABLE
To Combat German Measles. As many children as possible will receive injections next week immunizing them against German Measles, as part of a program to combat the disease and its more serious effects on unborn babies.

Children are the chief source of the spread of the disease to pregnant women, and if the unborn child is infected with rubella, it may very likely be born deformed, deaf, blind, with a heart disease or mentally defective.

There will be no charge for the program, put on with the aid of the State and Borough Health Departments. More important, to the children involved, the injections will be given by an air pressure gun, and are virtually painless.

Parents are urged to read carefully the forms distributed by the schools, and note the paragraph about who should not be immunized. However, those children who have already had three day measles should receive an injection, because there are so many childhood illnesses with rashes, that it is hard to be absolutely certain of a diagnosis of rubella.

Two immunization teams will be operating each day, accompanied by one of the pediatricians in Princeton, on the following schedule: Wednesday, April 15, Team 1, at Harrison Street Firehouse, 9 a.m., the following nursery schools: All Saints, Cherry Hill, Cross Roads, Little Red School, Nassau Co-op, Princeton and Shipetaukin; 10 a.m., Children's Manor, Princeton Montessori, University League, Rulerding; 11 a.m., at St. Paul's School and 1 p.m. at Miss Mason's.

Team 2 on Wednesday will be at the Burnt Hill Road School at 9 a.m., Johnson Park at 11:30 a.m.

an essay on dust

Dust, the most prevalent of the housewifely molodies, has also been a plague to bookstores. Yet part of the charm, the tradition, the "calling" of working in a bookstore is associating with the collected thoughts, insights and perceptions of the past, neatly stored, waiting to be stirred by someone who wants to learn, to enjoy, to discover. Then, cleaning off a little dust means something very special.

Still, all this was before the new revolution in book publishing — where news is as likely to happen at your bookstore as at your corner newsstand — before the advent of the totally contemporary novel, before the country's new hunger for more knowledge. Today, a bookstore is, in fact, a crossroads of information and news.

Dust now seldom has a chance to settle. For fresh, ideas, perspective and news, as well as knowledge of the past, come in and browse.

COST OF DYING SUBJECT
Of Film on Wednesday, "The Great American Funeral," a documentary film study of burial practices in the United States, will be featured at the annual meeting of the Princeton Memorial Association, Wednesday, April 15, at 8 in the Unitarian Church, Cherry Hill Road. All are welcome to attend. The film is a 55-minute CBS survey of the subject, including interviews with morticians and Jessica Mitford.

The Princeton Memorial Association, organized in 1956 by a small group of citizens, was "heartily endorsed" by the Princeton Pastors' Association that same year. It is a non-denominational, non-profit corporation whose primary purpose is to encourage its members to plan ahead in order to achieve funeral practices which shall be simple, dignified and in keeping with the personal wishes and religious beliefs of the deceased and their families.

It is one of the 120 member societies of the Continental Association of Funeral and Memorial Societies.

The Association has a list of funeral directors who have expressed their willingness to cooperate with the purposes of the Association and whose prices are available to members who ask for them. Other resources include "expression of wishes" forms, forms for donating one's body to medical science, one's eyes to the eye bank, and general information concerning cremation and burial.

Over the years the Princeton Association has been joined by more than 800 single and family members. Many have found that through advance planning they were able to secure dignity, simplicity and economy in arranging funerals.

REGISTER NOW
For Pre-Kindergarten The Princeton Regional Schools will continue their pre-kindergarten program in the 1970-71 school year. Since this program has a limited enrollment, priority for admission is generally given to children who have not had previous nursery school experience or who have needs in language development or other special areas.

To be admitted, a child must have his fourth birthday on or before November 30, 1970. Applications for admission can be made at the John Witherspoon School on April 13, 14 or 15, between 9 and 12. Parents should bring the child's birth certificate and evidence of immunization against poliomyelitis, diphtheria, smallpox and measles.

If requests for admission exceed the number of openings, a screening may be necessary in June, with the object of selecting only those children most in need of pre-kindergarten experience.

REGISTRATION SET
For W. Windsor Kindergarten. Kindergarten registration for the West Windsor-Plainsboro Regional School District will be conducted on April 14, 15 and 16 from 8:30 to noon and from 1 to 4 p.m. Plainsboro residents may register their children at the Plainsboro School on Tuesday, April 14.

West Windsor residents may register their children at the Maurice H. Hawk School. Those whose last name begins with letters A-M should register on Wednesday, April 15, those whose last name begins with letters N-Z should register Thursday, April 16.

In order to be eligible for kindergarten in the fall, the child must be five on or before November 30, 1970.

Physical examinations are required for the entrance into kindergarten. A family physician may administer the examination or an appointment may be arranged with the school doctor to conduct the exam by calling 799-0204.

For residents who do not have children now attending school, further information and registration forms may be made available by contacting Mrs. MacPherson, 799-0203.

News of Clubs and Organizations

Woman's Republican Club of Princeton: annual luncheon Friday, April 17, at the Princeton Inn. Hugh W. Sloan, Jr. will speak on "The Nixon Presidency, Its Meaning for America." Cocktails available at noon and luncheon at 12:30.

Mr. Sloan, a member of the transit staff when Mr. Nixon was President-elect, has also held prominent finance positions in the National Republican party. He is now a staff assistant to the President. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh W. Sloan of Princeton's Center Road.

Reservations should be made through Mrs. Edmund Beckwith, Jr., 432 Stockton Street.

Sierra Club: two canoe outings and a birding trip are being planned this spring by the Southern New Jersey branch. Non-members are invited to attend to learn more about the club's activities.

The first trip is an easy paddle down one of the rivers of the Pine Barrens, April 18. This trip will be suitable for children if adults accompanying them have had previous canoeing experience. Reservations should be made immediately, through Stockton Gaines, 22 Pine Oak Drive, Trenton 885-1411.

The second canoe trip will be overnight on the Wading River in the Pine Barrens on Saturday and Sunday, May 2 and 3. Those planning to take part must supply their own food and camping equipment, but transportation and a Marlboro can arrange for canoes. Reservations must be made at least one week in advance, through him at 4 Pierson Place, Hopewell, 466-1329.

Princeton Democratic Club: Formally installed at the last meeting were the 1970 officers, including Edward Schneider, assistant professor of political science at the City College of New York, who begins his second term as president. Vice-presidents are Archibald S. Alexander, Jr. for the Borough and Elaine Schuman for the Township. Other officers are Charles Frank, treasurer; Peter Mark, assistant treasurer; Marion Moffatt, corresponding secretary; and Martin P. Lombardo, recording secretary.

The executive board or the Borough will consist of Zaida Dillon, Susan Jones, Murray Medwin, Joseph Moore and Jaynee Schneider. Township board members will be Herbert Abel, Richard Bergman, Lang Bolz, Bolz, Golda Gottlieb, and Lucy Hackney.

The next Democratic Organization meeting will be Wednesday, April 15, in the New School of Music, at 8:30.

National Association of Accountants: meet Wednesday, April 15 at 5:30 in 4 McCosh Hall, on the Princeton University campus. Dinner at 6:30, followed by trip to Dow Jones & Company offices for a seminar on a "Management Decision-Making Game for System 360." Dues-paying chairmen are William J. O'Brien of Princeton and William T. Rice of Dow Jones.

The NAA meets regularly on the third Wednesday of the month; prospective members are always welcome.

Sweet Adelines: Four new members were welcomed to the membership harmony chorus at the last meeting; they are Mrs. Charles Angevine, Mrs. Ronald Beum, Mrs. Harold Frook and Mrs. Hugh Scott.

Women's Club of Princeton: Thursday April 16 at 1:30 in the Shrine Club on River Road. "Say It with Flowers" will be a demonstration of flower arranging and coordinated table settings given by Mrs. George J. Sakel, who is an accredited national judge and an artist besides.

Interestees for tea-time are Mrs. E. D. Townsend, chairman, Mrs. A. G. Rinas, decorations. They will be assisted by Mesdames W. C. Barnes, W. S. Bonham, L. I. Burnham, R. S. Christie, A. T. David, S. S. Dreier, W. D. Flinders, J. R. Galt, C. Granade, J. F. Hanlon, P. F. Herriek, O. C. Hopper, O. S. Johnson, C. R. Kennedy, C. F. Lambert, R. A. Leblay, M. A. Mather, C. E. Meyer, C. C. Osmond and G. H. Sands.

Attending the New Jersey State Federation fourth district Spring Conference at Forsgate Country Club Thursday are Mrs. Roger Willock, Mrs. Norman D. Kelley and Mrs. Joseph J. Sladovick.

Folk Music Society: Friday at 8:30 in Stevenson Hall, undergraduate eating club at 83 Post Avenue. A general singing and playing session and the nominations for next year's officers will be held.

Newcomers' Club: Thursday 8:30 in the YWCA. Norwegian will be available. The trip will be given by Mrs. Betty Benedict, director of public relations and advertising for Crest Playthings. A resident of New Hope, she graduated from Cornell and is responsible for all phases of publicity for the toy company, including the traveling toy exhibit which has been cited by leading museums for excellence of design.

C.A.R.-D.A.R.: annual tea Saturday at 1 in the Methodist Church parish hall. Hostesses are Mrs. Charles F. Egner, Jr., Mrs. Oliver S. Johnson, and Mrs. Thomas B. Upchurch.

Douglas Alumnae Club: Tuesday at 8 in the home of Mrs. Samuel Goldfarb, 69 Balsam Lane. A musical program will be given by two Douglas family members, Dr. James R. Wilson and James C. Scott, on piano and flute.

Dr. Wilson, an associate professor of music, is a graduate of Dartmouth as a Choate Scholar, with distinction in music. He also took degrees at Juilliard and at New York University. Mr. Scott, a Douglas instructor in music, received degrees from Oberlin and the Peabody Conservatory. The hostesses for the evening will be Mrs. Russell Bettes and Mrs. Arthur Robinson. All Douglas graduates in the area are invited to attend.

Recorder Society: Tuesday at 8 in All Saints' Chapel. This will be the first business meeting with election of officers and reading of reports. For the program itself, James Litton will speak on the uses of recorders in combination with voices.

Princeton Lions Club: Ladies Auxiliary: 6:30 p.m., Monday, at the Palmer Mohawk Inn on Route 1 near the Cox House. Service Advisor will speak on "Parties on Parade."

Hopewell Valley College Women's Club: 8 p.m. Wednesday, April 15, at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Edwin B. Wood, Pennington, on Lawrenceville Road. The guest speaker will be Mr. George Kravitz, of Hopewell Drive, Trenton, an authority on investments and securities. He will speak on "1970's Investment Plan: An Investment Strategy for This Year."

Mr. Kravitz holds a B.S. degree in Finance from Rider College. Formerly with the Broad St. National Bank, he is now with the staff of Haraloviter and Weeks - Herphill, Noyes, of Trenton. In addition, Mr. Kravitz has been teaching, for the last three years, the course in Investments and Securities at the Hopewell Valley H.S. Adult Education Program. The next meeting is open to husbands, and guests.

Business and Professional Women's Club: Monday, at the Holiday Inn, Mrs. Jean Wright of the Hopewell BWP and Mrs. Corrine Collins of the Red Bank BWP will be the guest speakers. Officers for the coming year will be elected. Mrs. June Tobin is chairman of the Nominating Committee. Dinner will be at 6:30, preceded by a cocktail hour beginning at 5:30.

Riverside PTO: an exhibit for children, man and his environment, April 15-17. The exhibit is open to the public daily, including Wednesday afternoon, from 10 to 4 and on Thursday evening from 6 to 9 at the Riverside School.

It features projects from children of the school as well as large exhibits from the New Jersey Dept. of Conservation, Dept. of Agriculture, the Mercer County Division of Parks, and the Stony Brook-Millstone Watersheds Association.

Included are live specimens of aquatic, marine and land life displays on water and waste disposal and may others. The exhibits are an attempt to help children develop a better appreciation of their environment and a better understanding of their responsibilities for their environment.

STOCK COURSE STARTED
Three Sessions Left. "Understanding Investments" is the four-session seminar in stocks and securities which started Monday at the YMCA. For the next three weeks Donald F. O'Brien of Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner and Smith will continue the investment course, which deals with general information helpful to the average investor.

Topics covered in the course include types of securities, how the stock exchange works, how to read a financial report, and stock evaluation for protection and potential.

Registration is required and a nominal fee is charged, but no YMCA membership is necessary.

CRIME AIDS SHOWN

At Shopping Center Mall. "Prison on Wheels" is a crime-dissemination display, designed to show what awaits those who would break the law. Through Saturday, it will be open free to the public in the center of the mall at Princeton Shopping Center, sponsored by the Merchants Association.

The exhibits, including a replica jail cell and electric chair, will be explained by attendants who have made the display interesting for some seven million viewers since it was conceived 15 years ago. Emphasis is placed on modern law enforcement aids like electronic lie detectors and sobriety instruments.

The "Prison on Wheels" was originated by J. Edward Slavin, High Sheriff of New Haven County, Connecticut, to be educational and interesting to adults and children alike. It has toured 47 states.

Correction

It was reported in last week's TOWN TOPICS that Charles A. Leis is architect for Princeton Community Housing's middle-income project proposed for the Township.

Actually, it is Agle, Short and Holt and Morgan Associated Architects that has the PCH Township contract. The contractee is an association of three separate architectural firms.

MUSIC In Princeton

TRAMPLER TO PIPERSON
In Chamber Orchestra Concert. Walter Trampler, whose artistry with the viola has won him world wide acclaim, will be the featured soloist with the Princeton Chamber Orchestra at a concert at 8:30 this Saturday at the John Witherspoon School auditorium. (See ad this page for complete program).

The chamber orchestra has just returned from its final tour of the current season, a three-state excursion into North Carolina, South Carolina and Georgia travelling the whole way by bus, due to the problems at the airport airports here created by the major traffic controllers strike.

Apart from his usual touring,
Mr. Trampler spends a good part of his year teaching at the Juilliard School of Music. Among his most prestigious engagements were a concert at the White House, as well as a private recital for the late Queen Mother Elizabeth of Belgium.

Born in Germany, Mr. Trampler, already had established a brilliant career at the age of 17.
In 1947, he became founder-member of the New Music Quartet which in nine years made quartet history. In recent years he has appeared as featured artist with the Casals and Aspen Festivals, and as soloist with symphony orchestras, as well as in recitals throughout the world.

CHAMBER MUSIC FRIDAY
Soloists Chosen. Elizabeth
Grutle, soprano, and Norman Flitt, pianist, will perform Friday at 8 in Woolworth Center for the Friends of Music chamber series. The concert is open to the public, free of charge.

Miss Grutle, a second year graduate student in history at Princeton, will sing Mozart's
"Voi avete un cor fidele" and "Alcibiade" from the motet "Ex-ultate, jubilate," along with Vivaldi's "Amato ben." She will be accompanied by pianist David Alencaster, 20.

Mr. Flitt, who is a sophomore at Princeton, received a scholarship at the age of seven to study at Juilliard, and has performed in public since the age of nine.
He is the winner of numerous

Robert Miller: "An Extraordinary Talent"

In a spectacular display of technical mastery and rhythmic precision, the young pianist, Robert Miller, performed at in Metcosh Hall last Wednesday night a program of 20th century piano music.

Mr. Miller included on his concert Stravinsky's "Serpenade in A" (1953), Four Pieces by Stephen Wolpe (composed between 1953 and 1959), Arthur Berg's "Five Pieces for Piano" (composed between 1967 and '68), works by Paul Lan-sky, Julian Kurihara, Claudio Spies, the "Piano Klavier Stucke," Op. 23 of Arnold
Schoenberg (1929) and Milton Rabbitt's "Partitions" and
"Post Partitions" of 1957 and 1964 respectively. Also, Stravinsky's "Piano Rag Music" of 1917 rounded out and otherwise not very well rounded program.

Mr. Miller is an extraordinary talent. He has a tremendous sense of rhythm and musical confidence. His performances showed finesse and polish of the highest order and a special sensitivity to the post-Schoenberg and post-Webern musical which seemed to represent the lion's share of the musical styles heard Wednesday night.

The problem with much of this idiom is the lack of individually each composer displays, especially after hearing one piece after the other. With the exception of the Stravinsky, Wolpe and the Lansky pieces, much of the mannerisms that appeared, let us say,
as early as the Schoenberg, Op.
23 and the Webern works that were composed in the late twenties and thirties, are expounded upon in the newer works represented in Mr. Miller's program.

The Berg pieces were perhaps the worst examples of precious musical contrivance.
Certainly, one can admire a colorful effect or two by the colors obtained by mixing the strings of the piano, but Mr.
Berg's highly organized and maneuvered structures are no defense against musical hordum, for that is what these pieces were: dull, uninteresting and mediocre efforts in musical expression at best,
the product of a limited talent,
in this writer's opinion.

Special mention should be made of the Rabbitt works, especially the "Partitions," composed in 1957. This piece with its brilliant, exploding popping kaleidoscopic bursts of sound, obviously needed the genius of Mr. Miller's exceptional performance, for despite the oft-time critical appraisals of Mr. Rabbitt's mathematical concept of composition, this piece really works. It dazzles the listener with its rhythmic freshness and invention. Had it not followed lesser works couched in a similar idiom, but less successfully created, the brightly nature of these pieces might have appeared even more compelling.

This year, Princeton has witnessed two major concerts devoted to music of the second half of the 20th century.
There may be a sameness to many of the pieces heard, but if a proper balance is sought by the program planners, a concert presenting a truly variety of 20th century styles should be forthcoming.

Obituaries

Dr. T. H. Vail Motter, 69, of 30 Palmer Square, died April 11. A native of Philadelphia, Dr. Motter was a member of the Princeton University Class of 1922. He received his master's degree from Harvard in 1923 and his Ph.D. from Yale in 1929. He taught English at the Riverdale Country School, New York City, and at the Berkshire (Mass.) School before teaching at Princeton University from 1929 to 1930.

He taught at Northwestern University from 1930 to 1933 and at Wellesley College from 1934 to 1941. During World War II, Dr. Motter was in Britain and Egypt as chief civilian administrator in the Corps of Engineers of the U.S. Army Middle East Command.

He was chief in the Middle East section of the historical division at the Pentagon from 1941 to 1951, when he retired. Dr. Motter was consulting editor of "The Papers of Woodrow Wilson" for three years. He wrote "The School Drama in England" and "The Persian Corridor and Aid to Russia." From 1964 to 1967 he was a visiting research historian at Princeton University, and a visiting fellow from 1967 to 1968.

Dr. Motter was a member of the Nassau Club of Princeton, the Princeton Club of New York, the Modern Language Association of America, the American Association of University Professors and the American Historical Association.

A sister, Mrs. Edgar G. Miller of New York City, survives him. Private cremation was held Sunday in Princeton University Chapel.

Lillian F. Brakeley, 79, formerly of Princeton, died April 3 in Fairfield, Conn. She was the widow of George A. Brakeley, former vice-president and treasurer of Princeton University.

Born in Washington, D. C., Mrs. Brakeley lived at Stony Ford Farm here. She was a member of the Garden Club of Princeton.

Surviving are a son, George A. Brakeley Jr., of Darien, Conn.; a daughter, Mrs. Jacques Key of Paris; five grandchildren, two great-children, and a brother, Julian A. Fay of Southport, Conn.

The service was held in Princeton University Chapel, Dean Ernest Gordon officiating. Interment was in Princeton Cemetery under direction of the Malher Funeral Home. Memorial gifts may be made to Princeton University.

Franklin Vreeland, 83, formerly of Cranbury, died April 4 at his home in Pennsauken. He was retired from the postal department at Princeton University with 26 years service.

Born in Cranbury, he moved to Pennsauken three and one-half years ago to live with his daughter, Mrs. George S. Stow of 6542 Cedar Avenue. He was a member of the Dutch Neck Presbyterian Church and Local 175 of the Service Employees International Union.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Mabel Sneede Vreeland; two daughters, Mrs. Stow and Mrs. Robert E. Kasky of Philadelphia; a sister, Mrs. Roba Welsh of Brainerd, Fla.; and six grandchildren.

The service was held in Cranbury, the Rev. James S. Weaver of the Dutch Neck Presbyterian Church officiating. Interment was in Brainerd Cemetery.

Mrs. Francis D. Maple, 59, of 720 Prospect Street, died April 5 in Princeton Hospital. She was a former partner in the business and decorating firm of Morris Maple & Son.

Born in Princeton, Miss Maple was a graduate of Princeton High School and Rider College. A member of the Women's Guild of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, she also belonged to the Business and Professional Women's Club, the auxiliary of Hook and Ladder Co. No. 1 and Princeton Chapter No. 1, O.E.S., of which she was a past matron.

Daughter of the late Morris and Ethel Voorhes Maple, she is survived by a brother, John V. of Bryn Mawr, Pa.

The service was held at the Kimble Funeral Home, the Rev. F. Hugh Liddon, officiating. Burial was in Princeton Cemetery. Contributions may be sent to the American Cancer Society.

Mrs. Albert Dauray, 38, of 16 Twin Oaks Drive, Lawrence Township, died April 5 in Mercer Hospital. Born in Wildwood Crest, she had lived in Lawrenceville since 1962.

Mrs. Dauray was a member of Trinity Church, Princeton, she also belonged to the Women's and Garden clubs of Lawrenceville.

She is survived by her husband, Albert J. Dauray, Jr.; two daughters, Sigrid L. and Susan G.; all at home; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur C. Anderson of Wildwood Crest; and a brother, Arthur C. Anderson 2d of Cherry Hill.

The funeral was held at Trinity Church, with burial in All Saints Cemetery under direction of the Kimble Funeral Home.

Toro charges into town with lower mower prices!

Fact: Compared to other "quality" mowers, TORO offers the lowest prices on 1970 models.

Check the other "quality" brands. Then take a good hard look at TORO. Dollar for dollar... feature for feature, you can't beat us in 1970.

Our "Top of the line" costs less. 21-inch Key-Select®, Pow-Dri®... $1194.95. Our price beats the others. So do these great features: quick action electric start every time, exclusive front-wheel power drive, folding handle, rechargeable battery, and vinyl bottom bagging (standard on all models). Quality all the way! You can't beat us in 1970.

Our 21" Key-Select costs less. Our unbeatable price is $1149.95. And here's something else the others can't match: TORO's famous "S" blade action and Wind-Tunnel® bagging that pull the grass up for a more even cut. Plus rear safety shield and all controls located safely on the handle.

Our 21" Key-Select costs less. Price... only $1194.95. Easy finger start. Rugged 36 hp. 4-cyl. engine. What a bargain!

You can't beat our 15" prices, either. 15" finger start... $1049.95. 15" Key-Select Start... $1134.95. 15" All Electric... $1119.95. Prove it to yourself. TORO is a true winner in 1970.

SPORTS in Princeton

LEAGUE RACE TO START
For Tiger Ball Team. The new format adopted by the Eastern Intercollegiate Baseball League will be unveiled here this weekend as the Tigers play three games in two days.

They will play host to Harvard, invariably a strong contender, Friday afternoon at 4 on Clarke Field in a game which dusk may curtail. Saturday at 1, defending champion Dartmouth will be here for a doubleheader involving two seven-inning games. If rain interferes, they will be played Sunday.

Although Coach Eddie Donovan's team gave a good account of itself in the south a fortnight ago, going first in the day team South Carolina tournament, it will have a major job on its hands winning two of its three games this weekend. The contest against Harvard will find the Crimson ready with a 2-0 lead. Its top pitcher, while Dartmouth has a fine combination of pitching depth and power at the plate.

Fortunately for the Tigers, the Indians' leading hurler, Chuck Seelbach, is scheduled to go against Columbia in New York Friday. However, Pete Broberg (son of Gus Broberg, a top baseball player at Hanover 25 years ago) will work one of the games here. He was 6-0 as a sophomore and three times a no-hitter. Unless the Orange and Black can top Harvard and split with Dartmouth, the resultant 1-2 or 0-3 mark will virtually eliminate it in the first week of play.

Tigers Can Hit. Off their 4-2 record, including victories in their last four games, at Columbia, S.C., last month, the Tigers showed they have unusual power at the plate for a Princeton nine. The starting outfield of Doug Blake in left, Paul Colburn, center, and Frank Bjorklund in right, was hitting better than 400 apiece when the team returned to Princeton.

Catcher Arnie Holtberg and first baseman Bob Schiffer are also equipped with hitting ability rarely seen here. Matching the power with pitching is Donovan's problem — only senior Bob Wolfe and junior Jack Hittson have previous experience.

All three games scheduled for last week were cancelled, one of them prematurely, as matters developed. The new Hampshire game Wednesday found snow still on the field. Thursday morning, with the rain coming down in buckets, the Friday and Saturday contests with Bowdoin and Manhattan were called off, but when sun and wind dried the diamond in time to have made the contest with Manhattan possible, it was too late to rearrange it.

N.Y.U., one of the top teams in the east, was on the schedule this Saturday (see page 30). Rutgers, also generally a strong opponent, will be here next Tuesday at 4.

TIGERS FACE NAVY
In Larrosse and Crew. An underdog Princeton Larrosse team and a slightly favored Princeton crew will journey to Annapolis Saturday to meet their Navy counterparts.

EMBATTLED TIGER: Gossie Will Reynolds (41) had a busy afternoon Saturday as highly-regarded John Hopkins won lacrosse game here, 13 to 7. Bill Donovan (21) scored on this close-in shot for visitors.

Indians 1st in Football?
Dartmouth, which finished a three-way tie with Princeton and Yale last fall for the Ivy football title, should be the 1970 champion, according to the traditional spring forecast of the directors of sports information.

In the annual poll, made public this week, the Indians received 48 points (7 for first place, 6 for second, etc.) Princeton, which meets Dartmouth at Hanover on October 10, was the choice for runner-up, drawing 33 points. The Green received six of the eight first-place votes, the Tigers getting the other two.

Yale with 36 and Cornell (20) round out the first division. Following in order are Harvard, 20; Pennsylvania, 21; Brown 11; and Columbia, 10.

Coach Ferris Thomson's lacrosse team lost its second game of the season Saturday to Johns Hopkins, 13 to 7, despite the fact that it outshot the Bluejays, 45 to 41. As had been the case against Maryland, Princeton was the game for the better part of three periods before failing to the constant pressure and was never in doubt.

It was 4-1 after the first period and 6-2 at the half, the home team narrowing the gap briefly to 7-4 after the intermission. Johns Hopkins' sharp offense caused frequent Princeton misplays, however, and the outcome was never in doubt.

Both service teams are on the schedule during the coming week. Army playing on Finney Field next Wednesday at 4. The cadets, who may be the nation's best this year, have not lost in Princeton since 1957.

Crew Impressive. Not until he has some idea of how good Rutgers is will Coach Pete Sparhawk know whether his own crew gave a considerably superior performance Saturday to what had been expected of the inexperienced Tigers.

Over a short 2,000-meter distance, Princeton defeated the Scarlet for the Logg Cup by four full lengths. Covering the distance in a satisfactory 6:18, the victors understroked their opponents for more than the final 1,000 meters, timed at a leisurely 32.

Princeton's junior variety had an even easier afternoon on Carnegie, winning by close to five lengths. However, the Tiger freshmen, coached by Jim Rasmussen, in his return here after two decades at Yale, had trouble getting away from the stakes boat and lost by no more than a few feet.

On the choppy Severn River, Princeton will seek to continue its long domination of Navy on the water. The Tigers have topped the nine matches each spring for the past eight years, and their auspicious start last week indicates they may do it again.

OPENER TUESDAY
For Princeton Tennis Team. Bill Humes, Princeton High School tennis coach, is the lone coach at PHS Saturday to meet his record of the year before.

BALTIMORE TO REPEAT: The major league baseball season opened Monday, and there are many pitfalls ahead for 22 of the 24 teams between now and World Series time in October. Pittsfor or not, two sophomores on the Princeton High School junior varsity baseball team, Scott Johnson (left) and Richard Wilson both pick Baltimore to represent the American League in the Series. In the National League Scott stays with the Mets but Richard likes the Dodgers.

Question Of The Week

Question: What two teams do A&S Luncheonette: The Mets—you think will meet in the World Series this fall?

Where asked: Around town.

John Robillard, Pennington, clerk for Community Liquors, Mets in the National League. They have a strong ball club but they didn't lose anyone of note. They added a couple of good players so they'll be tough again. The other league is a tough one but I'll stick with Baltimore again. Like the Mets, they didn't lose anybody and they have the best pitching staff around. I think these new artificial turf diamonds will make a big difference. Five or six clubs in the National League have them.

Sal Davidow, Skillman, owner, veracity senior: I don't think the Mets can do it again — statistics are against them. I like the Cards. The Cards have a way of taking trouble boys and making players out of them. They got three good years out of Marlin, and I think they'll be able to handle Allen as well. I think Bob Gibson is the best pitcher in baseball in the American League — Boston. More of a sentimental choice than from any great reasoning, although they have a lot of power. I like Yazminski, and Lonberg might come back.

Tom Brophy Jr., Lawrence Township, owner Brophy's Shoes: I'll have to go with Baltimore. They just have the pitching and overall talent. When you've got Frank Robinson in the lineup, you know he's going to hit .310-.315 and knock in more than 100 runs. As far as the National League is concerned you have two winners: the Mets are winners and the Cards are winners. With the addition of Richie Allen, who is probably the most powerful hitter in baseball, the Cards should win on paper. However my choice is the Mets with their preponderance of enthusiasm, plus their haphazard inevitability.

Scott Johnson, Princeton Junction, PHIS sophomore: The Mets and Baltimore again. The Mets are young and they've made more improvements. If Baltimore can put it all together like they did last year, there's no doubt about it.

Richard Wilson, Princeton Junction, PHIS sophomore: Baltimore has all around stuff; the pitching's good, the batting's good. With Willie Davis on the team, it's the Dodgers, no question about it. He's their star.

Larry McElhugh, West Windsor, free lance photographer: In the National League, the Cubs. Vince Lombardi said there is no substitute for experience and that is exactly what the Cubs have. A lot of experience, depth and a fine manager. There is no reason why they should have lost last year except that baseball is a very erratic sport. Minnesota should win in the American League. They have a lot of long ball hitters and a good pitching staff.

Randy Blalock, 15 Vandeventer, PHIS student: Probably St. Louis, and I'll have to go with Baltimore again. The Cards have had the power for the last five years. They've got the players; all they have to do is put it together again. They have tremendous personnel. If Richie Allen doesn't give them heart attacks, his hitting should be a big asset. I think the same goes for Baltimore. They have the players and I think they will put it together again.

Tim Desmond, Laurel Road, clerk, Skirms Smoke Shop: The Cardinals and Red Sox. I still think the Cardinals have the best personnel, and from what he's shown in spring training, Richie Allen should help out a lot. If Lonberg can come back and be as effective as he was before, I think the Red Sox have a good shot at it. They have a lot of good hitters.

Lewis Ferrara, owner University Barber Shop, 1 Palmer Square: Boston and St. Louis. With Richie Allen, St. Louis is a very formidable team. They're a good hitting team. Pitching I know they have. Boston has got good pitching, good hitters.

Richard Silvis, 256 John Street, Bellman, Nassau: The New York Mets in the National League and Baltimore again — the same two teams. The Mets are a bunch of young players ready to play ball; they've got something going for them. Baltimore will repeat because they want to make up for what happened last year.

Ray Lenore, Rocky Hill, mechanic for Griggs Corner American: The Yankees and Dodgers. I'm an old Yankee fan but Louk does have some good new prospects, according to the papers and that's all you can go by. There's Munson and Ellis, who was the best rookie in the Yankee Camp. The Dodgers have a good chance; they didn't lose out by a heck of a lot last year. Alston's got a pretty good team. In fact, the Dodgers could be a great team this year.

THE GREAT ROAD,
PRINCETON, NEW JERSEY

Sometimes we get the feeling we're being followed.

Everybody's getting into the act. Everybody's making a small car. And since we've made more of them than any one else, we thought we'd pass along some things we've learned about the business over the years. First off, there's no doubt about it: the only way to make an economy car is expensively.

So Rule No. 1, I don't scrap.

Get yourself the best engineers in the business and then hire 9,000 or so top inspectors to keep them on their toes.

Next, try to develop an engine that's not a piggybacker. If you can get it to run on points of oil instead of quarts, great! If you can get it to run on an insula of water, fantastic.

Work on things to make your car last a long time. Give it 45 pounds of paint to protect its top and a great bottom to protect its bottom.

Important: Make sure you can service an economy car you make. There's nothing worse than making someone find out that a part they need to make their car go is no longer available.

Finally, spend less time worrying about what your car looks like and more time worrying about how it works.

Perfecting a good economy car is a very time-consuming business. So far it has consumed 25 years of our time.

for the team, including "a lot of good freshmen."

From last year's squad, Humes has lost starters Ted Fritsch, Mike Jamison, Darius Barr, Scott Rasm, Glenn Stanley and Kevin Curtis. In addition, Steve Tobolsky, who performed so well as a freshman singles player, has left to attend Lawrenceville School.

The three top singles players this year will be a pair of sophomores, Danny Thompson and Michele Glouchkevich, and senior Robert Sonnenchein.

One doubles team will be comprised of Laurie Bloom, a senior, and sophomore Bill Schmidt. Another probable pairing, according to Humes, will be Bill Tobolsky, older brother of Steve, and Steve Frittinghausen.

THIS NINE TO OPEN

Monday against Cathedral in the Princeton High School baseball team will open its 17-game schedule at home Monday when it plays host to Cathedral in a 3-0 contest.

Starting on the mound for the Little Tigers will be veteran hurler Jeff Haring. John Hodges will be his catcher.

Slated to start in the infield are Walt Dimitrak, Jr., George Bocanassa, 2d; Ray Pettus, ss; and John Cushman, 3d. Jeff Grover will start in left field, Lou John Ross in center and Jeff Bannan in right. The outfielders and the battery are lettermen.

Two players who have come on strong in what little practice the team has had this spring are Ray Richards and Bob Brusch. Richards, a sophomore, is pushing Hodges hard for a shot as the starting catcher. "Brusch has done a darn good job at second base," commented coach Harry Zell. "He's mighty hungry and he's got a lot of life to him."

Weather a Factor. Most of the talk a week before the opener has centered around the abominable weather since Easter.

"In all my years of coaching, I've never seen anything like it," said Zell. "We weren't able to do a thing all week," he said of spring vacation. "Of course, everyone else is in the same boat," he added.

Before the opener, Zell plans to hold an intra-squad game between the varsity and jayvee teams on Thursday. "It will be a full rehearsal," he said. "There was talk of scrimmaging another team but I want to find out as much as I can about our own club."

Following Monday's game, PHS will tangle with Ewing on Thursday. Haring is scheduled to start that game, too, with senior Joe DeMaggio ready to come on in relief if necessary.

TRACKMEN ARE AWAY

For Thursday Openers. Assuming they have thawed out, the Princeton High School track team will open its schedule Thursday at Bridgewater-Raritan.

The Little Tigers will open at home Tuesday afternoon at 3:45 against St. Anthony.

Early in the week, coach Larry Ivon and his squad were still searching in vain for some warm weather. "The kids are sapped; it's an ache," said Ivon on Monday. "We just can't get started. This weather is unbelievable."

SEASON'S OPENER FRIDAY

For PHS Baseball Team. Equipped with new dugouts and power electric scoreboard, but only 13 boys interested in playing, the Princeton Day baseball team will open its season at 3 p.m. Friday against Germantown Friends at home.

In his second year on the job, coach John Ivors would have preferred to open against someone other than Germantown, which he favors to capture the title in the Day School Division of the Penn-Jersey League. Having just joined the league last fall, PHS is competing in baseball for the first time against most of the league teams.

In addition, while most other teams have been held up by the poor weather, Germantown had already played four as of Monday, posting a 3-1 mark. It was scheduled to play its fifth contest Wednesday.

The Panthers went outside for the first time on Monday, and had a scrimmage against Ward, now planned for Wednesday. Ivors expects pitching to be the team's main problem, something that has plagued the Panthers in the last two seasons. A year ago the team finished 4-5-1.

Dave Claghora is expected to be the squad's main hurler, backed up by co-captain Jim Rodgers and Peter McCandless. Rodgers, back after a year's absence, is the team's only senior. When not pitching, he'll be at first. McCandless will start at shortstop.

Veteran Terry Booth, the other co-captain, has been moved behind the plate to take over the catching duties. Dave Seckel, another starter last year, will be at second, and Claghora at third, when he's not on the mound. Tony Dale, who hasn't played much baseball at PHS, will also play third.

Hard hitting Carl Jacobelli will anchor the outfield from his spot in center, with Mark Ellisworth and Dale filling the other positions. Obviously, it's important that for Ivors to get by without any injuries. A couple of players sidelined and he could find himself without so much as a pinchhitter.

STICKMEN LOSE PAIR

Lawrenceville Here Next. The Princeton High School lacrosse team, winless in its first two starts this season, will play Livingston Saturday on the latter's field.

Then next Wednesday afternoon at 3:30 at Community Park, the Little Tigers will oppose Lawrenceville School. According to coach Marvin Trotman, Lawrenceville will be the first team this year that will be "on the same level" as PHS.

As for Livingston, which PHS will be meeting for the first time in the sport, Trotman reported that he didn't know a thing about them. However, if Livingston resembles other schools from North Jersey in the sport — and there is no reason to think otherwise — then there is no reason to think it will represent Princeton's third consecutive tough opponent.

In Saturday's home opener against Maplewood, PHS lost 8-1, after trailing 2-0 at the half. "We had a disastrous third quarter," said Trotman.

Only a third period goal by muddy Phil Matthews prevented a PHS shutout. "We played a little more wildly as the game and had some college boys on the roster. Trotman commented.

He added that despite the oneness of the scene he was satisfied with his team's performance. He pointed out that PHS goal. Said Trotman, "We Maplewood is a lacrosse club had two tough openers back-to-back.

Mike Tomlinson played his usual steady game on defense, Trotman reported, and he also cited the defensive play of Dave O'Brien. Even though the opposition was scoring, Trotman also praised the efforts of his sophomore goalie, Nick Robinson.

"The goals that went in were scored right on top of him," he said. "No one could have stopped them. We'll jell before the season is over."

PITCHING IS STRONG
But Hun Lacke Depth. When the Hun School baseball team played a practice game with St. Anthony's Saturday, it marked the first time the team had batted and played together outdoors, said its coach, Dave Lee. This occurred four days before the scheduled opener Wednesday with Peddie.
In addition to having precious little practice time, Lee's team is coupled with another problem—lack of depth. The varsity numbers only 16 this year, leaving Lee little opportunity to maneuver.

Although the start of the season is at hand, Lee is sure of only four positions. Mike Rossi, will be starting for the third year at first base. Another fixture at second base is veteran Dick Embrey. He and Rossi are co-captains of the team.

Sophomore Peter Jones from Trenton will be the starting catcher, and Albin Cheloux will patrol one of the outfield spots.
But Lee's has one up his sleeve and it's a big one—a good pitching staff. Heading the list is Rich Ziegler, who like Rossi, is starting his third year on the varsity. He is backed up by senior Mike Maguire, who had a solid season on the mound last year when he wasn't playing in the outfield. They will be joined by Bob Roby.

"The pitching is good. Lee's acknowledged. "It should carry us if we don't run into a situation where we have to play three or four games a week."
The team will play at Perkinson Saturday. Next Wednesday afternoon, Hun will host Pennington School for a 2:30 contest.

TRICYCLE WINNERS NAMED
Women's Group Being Formed.
Winners of the recent Winter championships have been announced by the Century Road Club cyclists. The senior division was won by Princeton's David Leavelle, while Keith Ward of Pennington took first place among juniors. Roger Grose and Harold Halsey were second and third in the junior division.

Hopes are high for the formation of a ladies' division this summer, and the secretary will be Mr. Dan Hawley. Interested cyclists from 14 to 40 should contact the club secretary, Century Road Club, 10 Union Street, Kingston.

A "Brains Trust" dealing with all aspects of cycling will meet at the clubroom, 111 Prospect Avenue on Friday April 17, at 8. Non-members are welcome to attend.

TENNIS PROGRAM SET

For Saturday Start. Saturday the action starts when the Community Tennis Program and practicing varsity squads from the senior high school move onto the community's courts. Tennis programs for all levels will provide enthusiasts with plenty of opportunity to improve their games.

In addition to the more structured programs, informal play will be available, and between now and June the afternoon hours of 3 to 5 will see most of the available courts occupied. The Recreation Department urges adult players to make an effort to schedule their matches outside these hours.

BOWLING NOTES

No. 3 Gains. No. 3 gained six points last week in the Tri-County Tenants League to climb into the tie for third place behind Lawrenceville. Each has 40 points, six less than league-leaders No. 1's and four behind second-place No. 1.

Frank Maddalon of No. 3 rolled a 611 series on games of 283-193-225. Teammates: Rip Davison and Bill Davall had 213 and 202.

Dutch Neck's Mel Tindall claimed the high single game of 242, and Kevin Delaney of 1's rolled 200-206-195-601. Others: Bob McDonald, 223; Ray Mount, 216; Dick Anderson, 211; Walt Coan, 209, and Elmer Perantoni, 202.

Sal DiMeglio was high man in the Nassau League with 225. He rolls for first place Tiger Garage, as do Nick Culerotti and Mike Pinelli who had 212 and 200.

Four players for Grover Lumber have posted 200 games: Vince Tufano, 207; Ed Duncan Jr., 202; and Ernie Hunt and Ed Dunco Sr., 208. Others: Bert Sierra, 223; Ray Slovinsky, 213 and Jim Shelby, 212.
Trigler's 3's Sam and the lead, followed by Grover (52) and Hill Cliners (50). Princeton Aviation, Kingston Wine & Liquor and Italian American Sportsmen all have 44.

Nick Rossi of Tamani Plumbing in the A League spilled the most pins on games of 225-100-394 for 609. Vince Tufano had a pair, 107-211, while Les Gibbs of first-place Ivy Inn rolled 221. Between 213 and 200 were Bill Barclay, Art D'Allegio, Al Hubbard, John Balestrini and Tom Seiderati.
Ivy Inn and Stefanello's are Town Topics, Princeton, N.

PITCHING VETERAN: Leading Hun School pitcher, Rich Ziegler returns this spring for his third year as a member of the Hun baseball varsity.

led 49-40, eight points behind the leader, Princeton. In third place with 44 points is Griggs Corner American. Antlers and Halesietri each has 42.

Carol Lisi leveled a 42 of 100 in the Business Women's League, rolling 225-102-164. Diane Fowler had 183-206 and Jane Rauch had an even 200.

Don Forestry rolled 196-188, and Lillian Burrough, 180. In the 170s were Dot Wheeler, Sylvania Lewis, Nina Boyden, Gail Echevarria, Dot Thomas and Mickey Chilcote. In the 160s: Betty Kiebler, Carole Harris, Sue Schilling, Ruth Bonn, Pauline Picone, Alice Tunson, Peg Rallo, Marie Widdow and Harriet Denison.

University Cleaners increased its slender one-point margin to four, 44-40, over Rocky Hill Inn. Carroues has 20 and Tamni Plumbing and Nini Plymouth, 36 apiece.

TIGERS WIN A BIG ONE
Trip NYU, Top Eastern Team.
Princeton's hopes of earning a place in the NCAA District II Tournament late next month got a solid foundation here Tuesday when the Tiger baseball team edged NYU, 7 to 6. The Violets won the regional title last year and are rated a strong favorite to be among the four best in the east this season.

The contest was even woollier than most early April games as the two teams compiled totals of 13 runs, 19 hits and 16 errors. One of the latter were charged to the losers.

Behind by 4-1 in the last of the fourth, Princeton scored three times to draw even, largely on doubles by Captain Mark Bjorklund and sophomore Tom Faulkner, the shortstop, and a pinch swing by sophomore Bill Binder. The latter, whose hit drove in one of the runs, is five-for-five on the season, all as a pinch-hitter.

NYU regained the lead in the fifth on one of its numerous gift runs (a walk, a passed ball and a two-out single) but Princeton scored twice in the sixth to make it 6-5. Catcher Arnie Holberter, 380-foot double to left center brought both runs home.

What proved to be the winning run was typical of the afternoon's proceedings. Bjorklund reached first on an infield error, stole second and came all the way home when the catcher's overthrow got by the center fielder.

The visitors got one back in their half of the eighth and had the tying run on second with two out in the ninth. However, the runner tried to score on an infield hit, first baseman Bob Schiffer making a perfect throw to Holberter for the final out at the plate. Jack Hutson, working well in a five-inning relief stint of starter Bob Wolf, was the winning pitcher.

PHS EASY WINNER
In Tennis Opener, Princeton High School gave every indication that it is headed for another fine tennis year when it easily defeated visiting Pennsylvania 4-1 in the Monday in its opening match of the new season.

Number one singles Robbie Sonnenchein won his match, 4-1, 7-5, and Danny Thompson, won his, 6-2, 7-5. Michele Glouchevitch split the third singles. He won the first set, 9-7, but dropped the second, 6-2. Each team received a half point when the match was called.

Coach Bill Humes' Little Tigers were also swept, both doubles matches. Bill Schmick and Laurie Bloom won handily, 6-1, 6-1, and Bill Tobolsky and Steve Ettinghausen prevailed, 7-5, 6-5.

The match was the first of the season for both schools. PHS was undefeated last year.

In a pro-type match in which the first players to take eight sets win, two PHS freshmen, Richard Broad and Nick Glouchevitch, won 8-4. The match did not count in the scoring.

Three other freshmen singled out by Humes for their play are Randy Thomas, Mike Coda and Jeff Siebens.

NEW SEASON AT HAND

For PHS Lacrosse Team, Like the Panthers' football team, Princeton Day Lacrosse has not been blessed with a overly large turnout, a situation that may be more crucial in this sport, where substitution is more frequent.

First-year coach Clint Wilkins kept just 17 boys to work with, 16 at the moment, as goalie Tom O'Connor is sidelined with a broken wrist. This problem of depth will plague the Blue and White all season as it meets teams able to shuffle fresh players in and out.

Wilkins will be looking to an experienced defense, led by co-captain Lew Bowers, to keep the opponent's scoring in check. Andy Houston, an experienced goalie, has been named up to bolster the midfield, the weak test spot on the team, leaving the behindmid job open to O'Connor and Dave Birch.

Deeds Young, the other co-captain, will fill one of the mid-field slots. Tim Smith will lead the attack, along with John Gordon.

The squad opens at home at 3 p.m. Friday against the Lawrenceville B team. There is no Penn-Jersey league action in lacrosse, so the Panthers will play a mixture of prep and high schools. A scrimmage against the Freddie JV was scheduled for Wednesday.

SAILORS UNDER WAY

As Spring Sailing Meets, the Carnegie Sailing Club began its spring racing series a week late due to the Easter Sunday snow, but a fine wind and excellent weather prevailed for the postponed events Sunday.

The sloop class was won by Jim McPherson. John Hopfield took first in the Penguin race, and club Commodore Ed Metcalf was victorious over a large fleet of Sunfish.

Racing will continue Sunday at the western end of Lake Carnegie, with the first event promptly at 2.

ROSSO'S KEEPS LEAD

In Bowling League, it is position night this week in the Princeton Women's Bowling League, but even if runner-up Rocky did win the match with Rosso's it still will wear the mantle of runner-up.

Rosso's currently has a 67.5% margin over Rocky, with Swift's Colonial Diner a distant third at 44. Pin Pals and Cranbury Bank are tied at 42 apiece.

Rocky did fashion the high team game and series last week, however, of 819 and 2534.

Kitty Thomas of Rosso's claimed the high individual game of 189, followed by Lillian Coleman of Rocky, who rolled 187. Mary Hurlbut and Emma Lohause, both of Pin Pals, rolled 179 and 174. Evelyn Sailer had 174 and Helen Perrine, 170.

BUSINESS In Princeton

RIGHTS OFFERING SET

By Princeton Bank, Princeton Bank and Trust Company has established an offering price of $45 per share on 40,362 new shares as authorized by the bank's stockholders at the annual meeting in March.

The bank will issue rights to each stockholder of record on the basis of one new share for each five shares presently held. Subscription rights must be exercised on or before April 22, after which all warrants will be voided.

Stockholders who do not wish to convert the rights into shares may sell to others. Any shares unsold under the stockholder rights will be subsequently offered to the public.

William R. Cosby, bank president said that proceeds of the stock issue will be added to general funds. The new shares were authorized by the stockholders on the basis of the expansion the bank has undertaken in the past few years, all of which has been financed out of earnings.

Among several new offices opened by the bank, one in Lawrence Township on Texas Avenue will open later this month. Growth of the bank has been accompanied by increases in stockholders dividends, now being paid at the rate of 40c per share, quarterly. In December, 1960 the bank distributed a 100% stock dividend to all stockholders of record.

ARCHITECTS NAMED

To Design New State College. The architect firms of Mahony & Zvoose Associates of Princeton and Sasaki, Dawson, DeLay Associates, Inc. of Watertown, Mass., have been appointed to design and develop the campus master plan for the new State College of North Jersey and for preparing the architectural designs and documents for the new campus buildings.

The State College of North Jersey is to be a completely new campus and will be the eighth state college under the administration of the New Jersey Department of Higher Education. Six of the colleges have been in existence for some time; the seventh, a new college to be located in South Jersey, is now being master planned.

The State College of North Jersey is projected for a tentative enrollment of 10,000 daytime students and an equivalent evening session. In an effort to open the college as soon as possible, temporary quarters will be ready in September of 1971 for an enrollment of 800 students.

A schedule has been established to have permanent buildings on the new campus erected and ready for occupancy by 2000.

students in September of 1972. The college will then physically expand in increments to meet the projected enrollment.

The Consortium that has been appointed has a wide background of experience in campus master plan and educational buildings design, as well as a wide variety of other types of projects. Among projects of the Princeton-based portion of the Consortium, Mahony & Zvoose Associates, are the design of complete new planned unit developments that range in size from 300 to 6,500 acres in Burlington County, Cumberland County and Middlesex County; religious complexes in Hightstown and North Plainfield and in Farmington, Connecticut; a 500-unit student housing complex for Rutgers and the design of a campus master plan and major academic buildings for Montclair State College in Montclair. Among their awards is a design excellence award from the New Jersey Society of Architects for their design of a 600-acre planned unit development in Burlington County, New Jersey.

APPLIED LOGIC SPONSOR

Of Seminar Friday. Applied Logic Corp. and Princeton University will co-sponsor a seminar at 3 p.m. Friday featured Dr. Grace M. Hopper, who will discuss "The Next Decade in Software." The talk will be held in the Convocation Room of the Electrical Engineering Building. Dr. Hopper's honors include receiving the first "Woman of the Year" of the Data Processing Manufacturers' Assn. She is currently working for the Special Assistant to the Secretary of the Navy in Washington, on an extended leave of absence from her executive position with Univac.

CANCER FILMS SET
For Playhouse Showing. Two cancer prevention films for women will be shown at 10 a.m. next Thursday, April 16, at the Princeton Playhouse.
 "Time and Two Women" and "Breast Self-examination" are the American Cancer Society films scheduled, Admission is free.

TRIP TO BARRENS
Planned Saturday. A massive field trip to the New Jersey Pine Barrens and salt marshes is planned Saturday morning by the organization known as Princeton Ecology Action. All residents of this area as well as university students, faculty and town officials, have been invited. Groups of about 20 persons will depart between 9:45 and 10:15 from Princeton Railroad station, in private cars. After arrival at the Pine Barrens, naturalists will take each group on a tour by foot and car, to observe different ecosystems and their impact on the total environment.

The Action group lists three objectives for the trip: education of the public to the "environmental jewel" of the Pine Barrens; helping increase the public impact of the "environmental teach-in" at Princeton; and to bring pressure on the Federal Government to preserve the barrens and marshes as a natural wilderness, a step which was suggested in Washington in 1967.

Those wishing to go on the trip should pack a bag lunch, and meet as close to 9:45 as possible in order to get an early start.

$10,000 APPROPRIATED
For Drug Abuse Program. The Board of Trustees of the Princeton Area United Fund has appropriated $10,000 for the Pilot Program for Drug Abuse of the Mercer County Child Guidance Center, matching previous commitments of equal amounts from the Borough and Township.

Arthur N. Curtiss and Alan G. Frank, past and present presidents of the Fund, stated that "there could be no better way to combat the problem of drug abuse than through the combined efforts of the community at large."

The Borough Board of Health first set the project in motion last fall by donating $1,500. The Junior League of Trenton contributed $3,000 earmarked for the services of a psychologist, and $500 to private contributions have also been received.

"Anyone who does not believe that the drug epidemic has reached Princeton has simply not looked around him — into schools, homes and often into his own family," commented Carl Reimers, chairman of the Princeton Advisory Board of the Mercer County Child Guidance Center. "We do have a crisis and it is among younger and younger children that the struggle against drugs must be carried on. We hope that the Child Guidance Center can be the effective force for the campaign to help our children."

The Drug Abuse Program will keep confidential the identity of any young person, whether self referred or sent by school, family, church, doctor or police. In many cases there will be on-going consultation with the parents, as well as group sessions for adults.

Despite the encouragingly swift action and generosity of the contributors, there is still a great need for more funds if the program is to be able to take care of all who seek help. A larger staff and space away from the crowded Whitney Center are extremely pressing needs.

In addition to helping actual and potential drug users up to the age of 21, the program will also gather and exchange information, and coordinate its findings and methods with other agencies and organizations in the overall mobilization against drugs.

Mr. Reimers pointed out that "one of the ugly paradoxes of drug abuse is that as usage increases, reliable information and trust of adults declines. We hope that the Child Guidance's program will provide a trusted center for critically needed research on the frequently and extent of drug use in the community."

The Child Guidance Center's Pilot Program for Drug Abuse is under the supervision of Dr. Nathaniel Bonin, and is also staffed by two full time employees, Mrs. Hilda Valenty, formerly with the Narcotics Program of the N.J.N.P.I., and Robert Millar, a psychologist who has worked extensively with narcotics users in other communities.

News Of The CHURCHES

WOMEN TO MEET

At First Church, The Women's Association of First Presbyterian Church will meet at 1 p.m. on Monday to hear Dr. Arthur M. Bannerman, president of Warren Wilson College, Swannanoa, N. C. The meeting is open to the public.

Dr. Bannerman is a graduate of Lafayette College and of the University of North Carolina. He holds the doctor of humane letters degree from Lafayette and the LL.D. degree from Johnson C. Smith University and from Berea College. Following his graduation from Lafayette, he was a law student in the office of the late Edward L. Katzenbach, then attorney general of New Jersey. His late father, a graduate of Princeton Seminary, was then minister of the Tusculum Presbyterian Church.

Dr. Bannerman has written articles on economic, social and religious conditions in the Southern Appalachian Region. He is a past president of the Council of the Southern Mountains and is presently a member of the North Carolina Education Advisory Committee to the Appalachian Regional Commission.

SEMINAR SET

For Church Musicians. An all-day seminar in church music will be held Saturday, April 18, at Westminster Choir College, Musicians from the New Jersey-Pennsylvania area will attend.

James C. McKeever, professor of voice and director of church relations at the college is co-ordinator. The session includes adult choral techniques, new media in worship, use of materials with the organ and problem-solving in a church music program.

Faculty who will conduct the classes are Robert Carwithen, assistant professor of organ and conductor of the Symphonic Choir; Herbert Pate, voice pro-

"Ethics for Today"

Charles W. Ferris, C.S.B., of Minneapolis will give a public lecture titled "Ethics for Today" at 8:30 p.m. on Tuesday in the auditorium of John Witherspoon School.

A graduate of the University of Chicago, Mr. Ferris was a chaplain's assistant during his service in the United States Army and also served as a field worker for Christian Science activities for the Armed Services. In 1961 he became a teacher of Christian Science. He is on leave as a member of the Christian Science Board of Lectureship.

Professor, and Mr. McKeever. Also, Paul Abels, consultant for church music with the Gale Galaxy Music Corporation, New York City, and Alexander McCurdy, head of the organ department at the Curtis Institute of Music, Philadelphia, formerly of the college. Registration at $10, which includes luncheon, may be made with Mr. McKeever.

REER LECTURE SET

By Princeton Seminary. The Rev. T. Paul Vergheze, principal the Syrian Orthodox Theological Seminary in Kottayam, Kerala, India, will give the James J. Reer Memorial Lecture at 7:45 p.m. next Thursday, April 16, in Miller Chapel at Princeton Seminary. The annual lecture honors the Seminary graduate who was killed in a Selma, Ala., freedom march.

Father Vergheze will also be the guest preacher at 9:30 and 11 a.m. services this Sunday in the Lawrenceville Presbyterian Church, and again at 10 a.m. on Wednesday in Miller Chapel.

BULLETIN NOTES

The annual rummage sale sponsored by the Women's Society of Christian Service at Princeton Methodist Church will be held next Thursday and Friday, April 16 and 17, in the church social hall.

St. Mary's Cathedral Choir of Trenton will give the first local performance of Haydn's rarely heard Salve Regina at 4 p.m. this Sunday. The program commemorates the choir's first solemn service on Easter Sunday, April 13, 1886.

Godfrey Schroth is the choir director. The group was founded by his grandfather, and latered by his father, the late Judge Godfrey W. Schroth. The program also includes music for brass and organ by Gabrieli, motets by Bruckner, and works by J.C. Bach, Anders. Gieseler and "A Canticale of Friendship," composed by Godfrey Schroth.

Two lectures will be given by the Rev. Dr. William Van Unnik at Princeton Theological Seminary this week. He will speak at 7:45 p.m. on Monday and Tuesday in the main lounge of the campus center. Dr. Van Unnik is professor of New Testament exegesis at the University of Tuebingen, The Netherlands.

Sermon topics in the Princeton churches this week include "Be Ready" by the Rev. Dr. Jay K. Helms at 11 a.m. worship in Princeton United Methodist Church; "Jesus and The Fearful," by the Rev. Joseph O. Rand at 8 a.m. and 11 in First Presbyterian Church, and "The U.A. in Disarray" by the Rev. Robert L. Cope in Princeton Unitarian Church.

Rev. Stanley Taylor of the New Brunswick Presbtery will preach at 11 this Sunday in the Witherspoon Street Presbyterian Church.

"A Critique of Mass Media" is the topic for discussion by the class on the Church and social issues this Sunday at 10 in the youth Prunage at First Presbyterian Church. Leaders will be Rev. Dr. Robert G. Andrus and Victor L. Jamieson, associate director of information for the General Council of the denominational's General Assembly.

At present there are approximately 50 patients at the New Jersey Neuro-psychiatric Institute. Skillman, who could benefit from having a Friendly Visitor. The program entails joining the Friendly Visitor training course sponsored by the State Department of Health in cooperation with the Extension Division of Rutgers. The course is being offered in the mornings on Monday, Tuesday and on April 20 and 21. Information is available from Mrs. Matthew Quay, director of volunteers, 466-1047. In December, there were 645 Friendly Visitors who devoted six and one-half hours to the program.

A SUPERB RAISED RANCH

The colossal condition of this 1 bedroom residence is only a small part of what comprises the attractiveness of this dwelling. It has wall to wall carpeting throughout the hallways, living room, dining room and master bedroom. It has a cheery eat-in kitchen, 2 1/2 baths, laundry room and utility room.

All this is overshadowed by the sensational stone fireplace in the bright family room. An oversized 2 car garage is another feature of this most attractive home.

Mortgage available to qualified buyer.

HOUGHTON REAL ESTATE

Sophisticated Western Section — Appealing Contemporary —
We have this unbeatable combination to show you.

Here is a house that provides a surprising variety of spaces which meet the needs of any active family. Entry, living room with fireplace, dining area, large kitchen, den, four bedrooms and three baths. Much more but we'd like you to see it for yourself! $72,500

Its outward shapes and materials are reminiscent of colonial design, but the flow of space inside this house is pure contemporary.

A central entry hall, living room with fireplace, formal dining room. Airy spaci-ousness keynotes the paneled family room with corner fireplace and the latest ideas in kitchen planning and design provide the ultimate in living comfort. Laundry and powder room complete the first floor picture. Upstairs, master bedroom and adjoining tiled bath and four more large bedrooms with double bath. A house with everything in Princeton Twp. $70,000

One of the finest lawns in Princeton surrounds this immaculate four bedroom multi-level home. The living room has a fireplace and the dining room overlooks dozens of fruit trees and carefully tended flower beds. Some of the special features are pine paneled study, separate laundry room, wall to wall carpeting and central air conditioning. $16,900

MANY FINE HOMES IN A WIDE PRICE RANGE IN PRINCETON & NEIGHBORING COMMUNITIES

Among our 373 listings (which include every property available in this area) there's a very neat and tidy 2-bedroom, 1 bath house on Harrison Street, across from the Shopping Center. Ideal, of course, for a couple allergic to driving — the bus goes past the front door, and one can walk to 40 shops across the street. This property could also be used as a doctor's or dentist's office. $32,900

CENTRAL AIR-CONDITIONING ... on a landscaped acre in nearby Hillsborough Twp., this handsome Dutch Colonial has living room, family room with fireplace, a fine master kitchen, powder room, 4 bedrooms and 2 baths. The neighborhood is full of children, and the neighbors are a congenial group — mostly from research centers in the Princeton area. Excellent schools. $44,900

COUNTRY HOME ... on 5 acres in Montgomery Twp., 15 minutes from Princeton, with a mountain brook tumbling over boulders on the western boundary of the property. Custom-built for the present owner, the house has many architectural details reminiscent of the Williamsburg style. Charming entry hall, large living room with fireplace, separate dining room, beautiful kitchen, big master bedroom with its own bath and huge closets, second bedroom & bath, paneled den (for 3rd bedroom) and large recreation room downstairs. Central air-conditioning. $49,500

VERY APPEALING ... On 1 1/2 acres in rural North Lawrence Township, this story-and-a-half Colonial, gleaming with fresh paint, will appeal to commuters as well as people who have long dreams of living in the country. Commodious foyer, living room with fireplace, dining room, very up-to-date all-electric kitchen with self-cleaning oven, fireplace and adjoining family room. Washer and dryer behind doors in the kitchen. Study, master bedroom and bath also on first floor. Upstairs: 2 bedrooms and bath, and plenty of room for adding another bedroom and bath. $62,500

SIX BEDROOMS ... and 3 baths! On a wooded lot in North Lawrence, but with a Princeton telephone and a Princeton mailing address, this is an excellent house for a growing family. Foyer with slate floor, living room with fireplace, dining room, large kitchen, laundry, family room, den 2 bedrooms and 2 baths are on the first floor. Second floor, 3 bedrooms, 1 bath. Three-zone heat with baseboard radiator. Full double windows throughout. The owner is a custom builder, and this fine home shows it! $62,500

VERY IMPRESSIVE ... rarely do we see a house which has always been maintained so well as this. Central air-conditioning helps, of course. But most of all, it is the affection and pride an owner has in a home custom-built for herself that makes the difference. First floor has foyer living room with fireplace, dining room, study (for 4th bedroom), family room, powder room, kitchen with ample breakfast space, laundry, master bath. Upstairs, 2 large bedrooms and bath. Two zone heat. Wall-to-wall carpet. Very large basement. Half-acre lot very interestingly landscaped. $66,000

VERY SPACIOUS ... among beautiful trees and far back from the road on three acres, here is Rosedale Road's best buy! The rooms are very large ... living room with fireplace (15x30), separate dining room, spacious kitchen (17'9" x 14'), paneled study, a master bedroom 19'x15', two other bedrooms, each 14'x15' huge closets, built-in garage! Maid's room has been converted into an extra kitchen, but could easily be a fourth bedroom as there is a bath adjoining. There's also a floored expansion attic perfect for two bedrooms, and bath. 69,500

RIVERSIDE ... one of Princeton's most pleasant neighborhoods ... winding streets, beautiful trees, lovely homes, very few properties are available here, but this is one of the most charming! Deep basement with an extra living room now used for TV. 14'x22' family room with fireplace and a bedroom and bath. Upstairs: living room, dining room, foyer, kitchen, a dishwasher and disposal. Upper level: 3 bedrooms, 2 baths, large closets. Wall-to-wall carpet. $69,500

WESTERN SECTION ... On a quiet street this property offers beautiful trees, an air of solid conservatism ... even a brook! The house is custom-built of stone and wood, and features a very large old white room with brick fireplace wall, and opposite, glass doors leading to a terrace and a sylvan view that is quite charming ... and forever yours. Kitchen is very spacious and modern. The rooming from the terrace to the thermopane doors. Spacious dining room, large made it kitchen, paneled room, and attached garage 4 bedrooms, 2 baths. $78,500

CENTURIES OLD ... dating from 1740, this fine Colonial is one of the showplaces of neighboring Kingston. Downstairs, the rooms are large and great for entertaining. 1 1/2 acres of land, with many great old shade trees and beautiful fields to guarantee privacy. Gracious entrance hall and large living room with fireplace, family room with high ceiling, paneled walls and fireplace. Heated sun room, dining room, foyer, kitchen, 4 thermopane doors. Spacious dining room, large made it kitchen, paneled room, and attached garage 4 bedrooms, 2 baths. $78,500

Many more fine homes in Princeton & vicinity in a wide range. Ample parking space for our clients.

completely finished lower level, opening to the lawn, are: playroom, laundry, 2 paneled bedrooms and a third bath. 2 car garage. On a wooded 3 1/2 acre with brook. A lot of house for $69,500.

FINE DESIGN MAKES THE DIFFERENCE: between this and other colonial houses of comparable size and is evident everywhere from the correct proportions of the exterior to the handmade paneling of a fireplace wall. The result is an air of elegance and authenticity. From the entrance hall, there are two steps up to living room and library, each with fireplace and rich detail. Both formal dining room and cheerful kitchen are flooded with sunlight from wide banks of windows facing south. There's a big laundry mud room for the children, and powder room. On the second floor, there's a master bedroom with 4 closets and baths, plus 3 twin bedrooms and another bath.
Paneled playroom with fireplace. Over two wooded acres with swimming pool. In an attractive Princeton location. $92,000.
